

Very few people, of the billions who inhabit this earth, are free from personal perplexities and worries. From time to time, an intelligent appraisal of our problems, plus enough self-faith to surmount them, is the best way one can use to overcome them.

Brown-Weymar Rites Held In Cleveland November 3

Mrs. Kingsley M. Brown, Jr.

Guests arrived in Cleveland last weekend from all directions for the wedding of Miss Lotte Weymar and Kingsley Merton Brown, Jr. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Brown of Bloomfield Hills, gave the rehearsal dinner on Friday night at the Wade Park Manor for out-of-town guests and the wedding party.
 The wedding was solemnized on Saturday, November 3, at 4:30 o'clock at Saint Paul's Episcopal Church, Cleveland Heights, Ohio. The bride, daughter of former Birmingham residents Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Robert Weymar of West Orange, New Jersey, wore a severely tailored gown of ivory satin, with long sleeves and high neckline, with full skirt and a long train.
 Her veil of French silk illusion fell from a circlet of the same material, caught with seed pearls, and extended beyond the train of the dress. She carried a bouquet of orchids, stephanotis, and lily.

AT A RECENT cocktail party and buffet supper, Mr. and Mrs. Manus F. Campbell of Warrington drive, Detroit, announced the engagement of their daughter Patricia to James E. Manger, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Gravin of Yosemite road, Birmingham. Miss Campbell is a senior at Marygrove College, and her fiance, a 1951 graduate of the University of Detroit, is now doing graduate work at Georgetown University. He is a member and past vice-president of Alpha Gamma Upsilon. There are no immediate plans for the wedding.

 Another father with two to welcome him was John L. McQuigg of Willow Lane. He and Mrs. McQuigg visited Sara, a new pledge to Delta Delta Delta, and son John, a junior and a member of Phi Gamma Delta. Also making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crane of Tropic road, Pontiac, who visited freshman daughter, Molly. Molly hosted her father at the Delta Delta Delta house where she is a pledge.
