Halloween Party

Plans are being made by the various organizations at the lake for a Community Halloween party to be held at the clubhouse of Walnut Lake Estates, Bench No. 2 for all children through the sixth grade. There will be prizes for all best costumes and "treats" for all. Our school will not participate in the parade in Birmingham this year.

Clean-Up

The clean-up committee of the Women's club's civic planning committee, Mrs. Howard Gould, Mrs. R. C. Banker, Mrs. Ferol Holiday, Mrs. Don Harrison, Mrs. Ernest Jacobson, Mrs. Richard Bennetts, Mrs. Ray Fletcher, Mrs.

Frank Morton have been urging their neighbors to clean up their yards this week. Mrs. Walter Carey has loaned a truck to the committee to pick up trash.

Women's Club

The Inter-Lakes League of Women Voters is observing United Nations Day, Oct. 24, with a meeting at the West Bloomfield Town Hall at 8 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Rolland will show colored slides of their trip to Italy where they studied the adult education program at work. UNESCO is watching this program which is being carried on in Europe in memory of Carrie Chapman Catt. The public is invited.

Next Thursday at 1 p.m. at Rotunda Inn, the Women's club will hold its annual luncheon and fashion show. The committee of Mrs. Parker Rockwell, Mrs. Mason Noble, Mrs. Edward Sints and Mrs. John Phelps are making all the arrangements. Tickets will be sold at the door.

New Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Irwin and daughter Virginia have moved into their newly completed home on Westmoor drive. Irwin is director of industrial relations at the Lincoln-Mercury division of the Ford Motor company. Virginia is in the fifth grade at the Walnut Lake school. They lived in Dearborn before coming here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lutz and children, Barbara and Paul have moved in their new home on Westmoor since last spring. He is with the Detroit News and they formerly lived in Detroit.

Club Breakfast

Thursday morning the social service committee of the Women's club had a come-as-you-are breakfast at the home of Mrs. Edward Sints with 42 mothers and preschool children present. Money was raised to be used for Christmas baskets for the needy. Mrs. Lester Johns was voted the most glamorous and Mrs. John Phelps made the most words from "social service."

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. John Woodman recently entertained for Darrell Davis a comptroller with the Air Force at Selfridge Field and his wife from Danville, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Labring of Gaines, also attended the dinner.

Richard McKay and son, Randy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Currie and Dr. Verris E. Richards went to Luserna to hunt with bow and arrows. Since it rained, they are planning to return this weekend for another try.

Mrs. John Parkins went to Windsor Wednesday to visit her mother. Her daughter, Pat, came home from her nurse's duties in Detroit to be with the rest of the family while her mother was away.

The Garden group went to Southfield Thursday to see African violets. They returned to the home of Mrs. William Sloat for refreshments.

Miss Edson Stevens attended the AAUW luncheon at the Community House Wednesday. Dr. Deborah Bacon, dean of women at the University of Michigan, spoke on the "Responsibilities of the Women of Today."

Scouts—Girls and Boys

Mrs. Lee D. Hanson attended the national convention of the Girl Scouts of America in Boston this week. She is the president of the Troop 9 of our girls who is made up of our girls who are now in Barnum school will meet again this year under the leadership of Mrs. Richard McKay. They will meet in the school with other girls of the seventh grade.

Troop 58 met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Edson Stevens Monday afternoon. They elected president, Dawnie Lee Karnes; vice president, Judy Sandstrom and treasurer, Pamela Parkins. Pamela arranged the program for the day which was a few exercises in dramatics to fit in with the player badge.

Troop 60, fifth grade girls, met with their leaders, Mrs. James Roberts and Mrs. Emmett Hampton at the Roberts' home. After a brief business meeting they took a hike around the neighborhood.

Brownie Troop 25 held their first meeting at the school with their leaders, Mrs. John Parkins and Mrs. Reginald Smith. They made paper carnations. Peggy Sloat was chosen scribe.

On Oct. 22 at the school at 3:30 p.m. all girls of Brownie and Scout age are invited to take part in a Girl Scout song meeting. The three local troops will meet once a month to sing together and all girls who are or have been Scouts are welcome.

The Cubs met at the clubhouse at Beach 2 to continue working on their theme, "Nature for their Pack" meeting at the school Oct. 30.

NORMAN COUSINS

Noted Lecturer Will Speak Here Sunday Afternoon

Friends of Baldwin Library will sponsor the appearance in Birmingham of Norman Cousins, editor of "The Saturday Review of Literature" on Sunday, Oct. 21. He will speak at the Community House at 4 p.m.

Cousins, vice president of the United World Federalists, is a student of public affairs and political science and has written and lectured on these subjects.

An editorial, written in 1945, on the implications of the Atomic Age has been printed in six different languages and has appeared in magazines and newspapers throughout the world. It has also been expanded into a book.

Cousins took part in the atom bomb test at Bikini in 1946, and his observations of the test were widely broadcast.

HE HAS SERVED as chief U.S. delegate to the U. N., and on a small committee named by Gen. Leclerc Clay to study and make recommendations pertaining to the democratization of the German people.

While in Germany he did the first broadcast to this country directly from one of the planes flying "operations Vittles."

He has also won national recognition for his work on the fact finding commission on education, appointed in Connecticut by the governor. The second annual Tutin Plan awarded was presented him because of his work.

More recently he has returned from a special mission for the state department in India, where he held several conferences with Prime Minister Nehru and other leaders of India's government.

Tickets for the lecture may be purchased at the library.

Princess Ileana, daughter of the late Queen Marie of Roumania will speak at Detroit Town Hall, at 11 a.m., Wednesday, Oct. 24, in Fisher theatre.

Her Highness, one of royalty's most beautiful women, will tell the story of her life among the communists before she and her family were forced into exile.

The princess experienced at first hand the rise to power in her country of the communist party. As a child, she witnessed the ravages of war and saw the beginning of the Russian Revolution.

WHEN SHE WAS forced to flee from Roumania, she took with her to the United States her mother's diamond tiara which she sold to buy the New England home where she now resides with her six children.

Her husband Archduke Otto of Austria is currently in Argentina. The princess' last visit to Detroit was in the 20's, when she accompanied her Queen Mother on a coast-to-coast tour of the United States.

IN LINE OF DUTY

Repairman Peter Patterson, Jr. and Testman Fred Clayton

FRED CLAYTON is a Michigan Bell testman. He was on duty when a call came in from Mrs. Paul Carrick of Birmingham. "I just tried to call my mother, Mrs. Markham, in Pleasant Ridge, and got no answer," she reported. "I know Mother's home, I wonder if her telephone's out of order."

Fred tried the Pleasant Ridge number. No one answered. He contacted Repairman Peter Patterson, Jr., and asked him to investigate. The repairman rang and knocked at the Pleasant Ridge address. Still no one answered. Then, turning to check the outside telephone wires, he heard a weak cry for help inside the house.

There he found the elderly Mrs. Markham lying at the bottom of the basement stairs. A fall had fractured her leg and a neck bone.

Repairman Patterson called police and hurried next door for the neighbors. "Don't move her," he cautioned them. "Wait till the doctor gets here."

Mrs. Markham is recovering from her accident. Because her daughter tried to telephone her—because Testman Fred Clayton was alert—because Repairman Peter Patterson, Jr., was quick to act in an emergency, a more serious tragedy was averted. Vail Citations have been awarded to both Michigan Bell employees.

It's people who make telephone service good.
