Youthful Presbyterians Will 'Help the Poor' At Halloween Observance

The cry, "Help the poor" will take on a deeper meaning in Birmingham this year, when junior high school students leave the First Presbyterian church to work for the American Friends Service committee.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., on Tuesday, Oct. 30, these costumed youngsters will visit Birmingham homes, soliciting sewing articles, sturdy shoes and articles of clothing. These will be turned over to the Quaker-sponsored Friends for shipment abroad.

Each solicitor will be identified by the official Friends seal as they call at your home.

Following their hour long collection, the young people will meet at the church for entertainment and refreshments.

School Children Form Ascension Church Choir

A choir has been organized among the school-age children of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension, to be directed by the pastor and church organist.

Musical selections, suitable to their ages and abilities, will be chosen with the group probably making its first appearance on Dec. 2, the first Sunday in Advent.

The pastor, the Rev. Paul Shipper, said the choir had been formed to acquaint children with the various types of music affiliated with religious services and create a deeper appreciation of secular music. It will, in addition, offer a basic training in voice for those who join its activities.

Birmingham Lions List Recent Gifts

Birmingham Lions club has voted to present a second visual aid machine to the Birmingham school system.

One machine, in use for five years, has been instrumental in helping many school children obtain correction for vision defects which otherwise might have gone unnoticed.

The machines are used under the direction of Miss Frances Curtin, school nurse, and Mrs. Harriet Kopp, speech correctionist.

The showing will feature half-toned tweeds and checks in classic styles.

This loomed-in-England collection of clothes is noted for the two outstanding fabrics, Pashu cloth, a special blend of cashmere and imported wool; and Victoria cover, a long-wearing fabric originally woven for Queen Victoria and later adopted by the royalty of continental Europe for personal wardrobes.

THE CLUB ALSO voted to purchase 12 new rain capes and 24 belts for patrol boys. In addition, 24 award pins will be purchased by the club for the patrol workers.

All equipment will be presented to Lieut. Henry Timms of the police department's traffic division who is in charge of the school's safety program.

The final appropriation approved by the Lions League was to allocate $100 for use by the Leader Dog League in Rochester.
