Barbara Hughes Married At Ceremony In Franklin

Candlelight filled the Franklin Community Church when Barbara Jean Hughes and Eric Kalman Matus repeated their vows before a Fern banked altar in a late afternoon ceremony, Saturday, September 22. The Rev. William C. Lovejoy, pastor of the Franklin church, and the Rev. Glen W. Harris, of the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Barbara is the daughter of Mrs. Grace H. Hughes of Bates street, and Eric, on leave from the Air Force, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kalman Edwin Matus, of 13 Mile road.

The bride's white satin gown and a cathedral train had long fitted sleeves accented by lace set in at the shoulders, and an illusion veil was tucked in her Juliet cap of chantilly lace. Bennett Brown, who composed all the floral arrangements, selected the bridal bouquet of white fugu mums surrounded by white baby mums, which when cascaded a spray of ivy.

Barbara Kinney was the honor maid, and Mary Gilchrist and Ann Bronsing completed the list of attendants. All were gowned in full length dresses of mint green, with net bouffant skirts and lace bodices with satin trim. Their strapless shoulders were covered with green net capes, and they wore semicrepe of baby mums in their hair. They carried buff fugu mums and white baby mums with touches of hollyhock.

FLOWER GIRL Donna Voorhies, a cousin of the bride, wore a floor length white organza dress over a hoop. She carried a noseyak of sweetheart roses.
Mr. James Gilchrist escorted the bride to the altar. Edwin Matus
