

Campaign Here Features Lunch

Service clubs, city officials and between 50 and 60 engineers from the State Fire Prevention association have been invited to the luncheon which will be one of the highlights of Fire Prevention day Oct. 9.

Charles Mortenson, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said the affair would be held at the Community House on Tuesday, the second day of National Fire Prevention week.

"The aim of the program," Mortenson said, "is to get constructive suggestions on fire prevention. These fire prevention experts will make their services available to local merchants at no cost. Buildings will be checked and suggestions made as to how they can become safer."

"The entire program will be voluntary on the part of Birmingham businessmen. No one needs to have the inspection made, but we sincerely hope they will all take advantage of the opportunity."

"Basically it is an educational program. The whole idea is to show merchants how they can protect their holdings through the removal of the hazards, many of which they do not know exist."

"It might be said the whole campaign is to save lives through fire prevention and to drastically cut property losses."

Mortenson said that an outstanding member of the state association would speak at the luncheon meeting.

Troy Twp. Board Discusses Fire Signal System

Plans for a new fire hall signal setup in Troy township were discussed by the township board Monday evening.

Fires now are reported by calling the telephone operator, who immediately pulls an alarm switch, notifying the volunteer department. However, after Jan. 1, 1952, the dial system will be in effect in the township and this service will be discontinued.

Township Clerk Clifton Truesdell said one signal station will be in use at the township hall during daytime hours. Two other places will be designated in the near future.

IN OTHER BUSINESS at Monday's meeting, the proposed new township plumbing code was presented. However, no action will be taken on approving it until a system of fees is formulated.

Board members authorized the purchase of a Ford tractor and bids will be advertised. Truesdell said one of its main uses will be to clear snow from roads.

Forbes S. Hascall Instructor for Banking Course

Forbes S. Hascall, 608 Oakland this year will again instruct a class in negotiable instruments for the Oakland County chapter, American Institute of Banking.

Hascall, attorney for the city of Birmingham, has been a member of the institute's faculty for the past three years.

Class will meet in the Birmingham National Bank lobby each Tuesday evening, starting Sept. 25, for 14 sessions of three hours each.
