AAUW Booksale Discussed At Luncheon

Red Run Golf Club was the scene Wednesday, Sept. 12, of a luncheon given by Mrs. Carl Binch, sales chairman of the Birmingham AAUW Book Sale, for chairman-of-the-day. Guests were Mrs. W. G. Patton, Mrs. Marilyn Smiley, Mrs. Ralph Beebe, Mrs. Stuart Gasten, Mrs. W. C. Ailes, Mrs. R. C. Scott and Mrs. Clarence Bierman. With the opening sale date of Sept. 23 rapidly approaching, these chairmen met for final instructions for the handling of the thousands of books collected during the past six months. The sale will again be held at the Edison building, Merrill Street, Birmingham. Dates are Sept. 23 to 29.

This annual AAUW event which has grown more and more important each year to the community of Birmingham, draws book lovers from all over the state; people who have come to realize that many book treasures long hidden in the attics of this area will come to light only at this time.
 Mrs. Kenneth Swartz is a 40 AAUW president, has announced that there will be no general meeting this month because "every one of over three hundred members now in the branch should be devoting time and effort to the sale of the proceeds of which will be used for the International Fellowship Fund and other educational projects of the organization."
 The Pick-up committee under the leadership of Mrs. Glenn Kyster is soliciting all types of books, fiction, non-fiction, biographies, technical books, detective stories, children's books, monthly magazines, patterns, records, sheet music, toys and games.
 People who have books to contribute may call Mrs. Kyster, or take the books to the Edison Building after September 17.
 A bachelor of science in business administration.
 James R. Anderson, 789 Southfield is among 434 Indiana University students named winners of scholarships at the University for the 1951-52 academic year. James was awarded a $12,100 Bursar Memorial scholarship, given to junior and senior men students with outstanding scholastic records.
 Mrs. Charles K. Patterson of 1362 Latham street, a graduate of Culver Military Academy, has been accepted for admission to the fall 1951 class of the Georgia Institute of Technology. The fall term commences on September 17.
 K. H. MacQueens of 18347 Bedford road successfully completed water safety courses at Duke University, sponsored jointly by the Duke Physical Education department and the American Red Cross.
 Miss Elizabeth Whitelaw, Smith College Junior from Birmingham, was among a group of 30 college women who sailed August 28 on the Queen Elizabeth for a year's study in social science and international relations at Geneva.
 Donald M. Goldsmith, son of the D. M. Goldsmith's of 998 Brookwood, left September 12 for the University of Colorado. Last week Donald was the host at a steak roast at his parents' home.
 Mary Ellen Welch will leave Sunday, September 15, for Michigan State where she will enter the freshman class.
 Mary Jane Hill flew to Nashville, Tenn., on September 12 for her last year at Vanderbilt University. Mary Jane is a member of Alpha Omicron Psi.

DAR Names More Exhibitors

Mrs. Thomas McDonnell, general chairman of the First Annual Piety Hill Antique Show and Sale, announces that three more exhibitors have been chosen by Mr. Sam Yeagley of Annville, Pa., manager of the show, to be held October 3, 4, 5 and 6.
 Mildred B. Smart is coming from Tiengen road, Rochester, Mich., to display early American antiques. She specializes in the pine furniture so much in demand for country homes, and the accessories which carry out the feeling of informality and warmth. She works with clients in furnishing a room, corner, or entire house, including the furniture, lamps, bric a brac, wall decorations, homepunns for curtains and bed hangings, as well as brass and copper utensils. Most of her buying is done in New England but she tries to keep some of the Pennsylvania pieces in stock as well as period furniture.
 Ralph M. Meyer of Delaware Water Gap, Pa., will be another exhibitor. His stock will consist of collector's items in many fields, especially primitive and Pennsylvania Dutch.
 Robert Burkhardt of Kutztown, Pa., carries a general line of American antiques for city and country homes, as well as fine china, historical and luster ceramics, pressed glass in the better patterns, blown glass, and Pennsylvania Dutch items.
 Mrs. C. W. Wacker is in charge of ticket sales. Tickets may be procured from any member.
