

This is the time of year when, if you love to take pictures, you can record the grandeur of autumnal colors out-of-doors; isn't it wonderful to love to live in an area where you can watch the seasons come and go, with all the chemistry of Nature at work?

Parents' Anniversaries Date of Seldon-Booth Rites

MRS. JOHN EDWARD BOOTH

September 7 was a day of special significance for Carolyn Ann Seldon and John Edward Booth. In addition to being their own wedding day, it was the twenty-second anniversary of the marriage of Carolyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Seldon of Balsam drive, Franklin, as well as the thirtieth wedding anniversary of John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Starr Booth of Pleasant Lake.

The young couple were wed in a candlelight ceremony at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer at eight o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Theo. Wuggraser and the bride's uncle, the Rev. R. H. Bekemeier of Yorkville, Illinois, officiated at the double ring rites. The bride's gown, which she designed and made, was of brocade white satin with a basque waist, long fitted sleeves, and a modified train. In the center of the yoke of nylon illusion net the bride wore at her throat a brooch originally belonging to her grandmother. Her illusion veil was held by a tiara crown. She carried white fugi mums.

The maid of honor, Jean Malow of Detroit, wore a short sleeved dusty rose dress patterned after the bride's. Her bridesmaids wore a flower band of daisy mums. Her bouquet was of bronze fugi mums. The bridesmaids were Miss Lydia Bekemeier of Yorkville, Ill., a cousin of the bride. They wore dresses of dark and medium blue and carried bouquets of white and yellow roses. Mary Esther Seldon, the bride's eight year old sister, served as flower-girl in a similar gown of light blue.

Eric Booth was his brother's best man, and eight year old Danny Booth, another brother, acted as ring-bearer. Mr. Vincent Spencer and Mr. Ralph Paschke seated the guests.

Mrs. Seldon was gowned in dusty aqua with a soft rose feather hat. She wore a deep rose orchid. Mrs. Booth chose a blue dress and hat of dark shade, and a corsage of yellow roses.

The church parlor was the scene of a reception following the rites. Out-of-town guests included the Rev. and Mrs. Bekemeier, their son, father, and mother; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schluemaker of Richville, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. John Bethman and Miss Alma Bekemeier of Port Huron, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wanlis of Bay City, and Miss Augusta Brandhorst of St. Louis, Mo. After a trip to Canada and the Adirondacks the couple will make their home at Pleasant Lake.
