

Nature gives us the appetite for food, and also the judgment to know when we are filled up . . . for the appetite vanishes. How wonderfully it, in the realm of gathering material wealth, more of us could be satisfied with just enough.

The Birmingham Eccentric

PART 2

Thursday, April 17, 1952

FRANK S. LYNDALL of Wellesley drive and his daughter Barbara pose with the fish they caught within fifteen seconds of each other in Acapulco, Mexico. Mr. Lyndall and Barbara flew home recently after spending three weeks "south of the border". Their trip included a stay in Mexico City where they were entertained by the first secretary of the American Embassy and Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson of the famed Jockey Club. They were entertained by Mrs. Edith Little Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Norton Pontevel.

BITS OF BIRMINGHAM

Mrs. William H. Mills, 367 Saffield, has asked this Wanderer to pass on a bit of information which she feels will be interesting to Birmingham bird lovers. About the middle of last week she saw two evening grosbeaks feeding at the station in her yard, an event she believes to be unusual since these are a northern bird and are rarely seen this far south.

The first "personal" evidence of the movement to put Gov. G. Menen Williams into the presidential race was sighted by this Wanderer Wednesday noon. As we waited for the Hunter-Oakland light to change, a car passed bearing three large, hand-lettered signs: "Williams for President."

Even though Saturday's weather was cold and wet, Birmingham Rotarians collected $250 selling paper lilies on the downtown street corners. The money is turned over to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, a social agency actively supported by Rotary clubs.

Alfred Robbrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Robbrough, 642 Pilgrim, will be among the 16 candidates for the Colby College golf squad, Waterville, Maine.

If you haven't been to a city commission meeting in the past two months, then you won't recognize the city commission room. All the dirt and soot which has covered the walls and ceiling has been washed off and new clean window shades installed. City Commissioner Lance Minor is awaiting the final step—removal and relocation of the pictures of former commissioners on the west wall. These pictures presently are hidden by the huge map board which stands behind the commission table.

ALL WAS PEACEFUL ALONG THE NILE when Mr. and Mrs. Bert Uebale, Jr., took a four-mile camel trip to the Sphinx and the Great Pyramids. Mr. and Mrs. Uebale recently returned to their Orchard Ridge home after two-month cruise of the Mediterranean aboard the 55 Independences. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Swart of Grand Rapids. Theirs was the first ship to enter an Egyptian port after the January riots. Mrs. Uebale stated that the Egyptian government took every precaution and that they were under military guard throughout their stay. She added that "although the country is under martial law, the government is most anxious to encourage tourists." Mrs. Uebale also remarked that "they were very gratified to find a very vigorous pro-American attitude in Turkey." The cruise encompassed twenty countries.

Jenson of Bloomfield Hills president of the organization. An open house and fashion show will be a part of the program.

open house and fashion show will be a part of the program.

DURING THE Wednesday clinical sessions, Dr. N. Weir Burkman, secretary of the American Association of Endodontists, will take part in a discussion of that subject. Miss Frances Shook is working on arrangements for the 30th annual session of the Michigan meeting of the MSDA which will convene at the same time. Prominent dentists from all sections of the country will take part as well as students from Canada, Bolivia, New Zealand and Brazil. Mrs. Jenson of Bloomfield Hills president of the organization. MRS. JOHN B. KOHLMAN

Kuhlman-Irvine Rites Recently

A recent bride was Phyllis Irvine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Irvine of Detroit. She became the bride of John Bernard Kuhlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Kuhlman of Haynes street in a March 28 ceremony. The couple repeated their vows in the home of the bride's parents. They were attended by Dorothy Davies and Dr. E. B. Davies of Alma. The bride wore an ankle-length gown of embroidered organza with a hoop-skirt. Her nosegay bouquet was composed of pink and white carnations and roses. Soloist for the nuptials was Clayton Barnes, an Alma classmate. After a wedding trip through central Michigan, the couple returned to their teaching positions in Bayport and Pigeon. They will make their home in Bayport.

News copy submitted early necessarily is given preference over late items. So the "Early Bird" usually gets the space.

We cure insomnia

A lot of people in this town sleep better because of us.

Insurance of all kinds brings peace of mind. And peace of mind brings sleep.

For example, if a burglar visits you, don't let it disturb you. You know your loss is covered by an America Fore insurance policy on your household goods, personal effects, clothing, jewelry, furs, silverware, etc. It covers burglary, robbery and theft. And hold-up and theft away from home are covered, too!

You'll be surprised how little a Family Theft policy costs.
