

Some things of earthly life are obtainable at a cheap price, such as through stealing or double-dealing. Other items acquired ethically, such as in a woman's career, character, though, has a spiritual, wonderful price tag on it.

MRS. WILLIAM C. MORRISON, JR.

Margaret Riddell Is Bride Of William Morrison, Jr.

At eight o'clock Friday evening, Margaret Ann Riddell and William Clarence Morrison, Jr., repeated their wedding vows before the Rev. Arnold Runkel in the First Methodist Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Riddell of Big Beaver road, selected an ankle-length gown of nylon tulle and net over white satin.

The minute gathers of her hand held tiny flowers centered with seed pearl. An elbow-length veil and nylon mits completed the bridal costume. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

to perform the maid of honor's duties. Her yellow taffeta gown was topped with a matching jacket, and she wore a crownless cap of yellow flowers.

The honor attendant carried yellow carnations studded with deep blue iris.

Mrs. Richard Broxton, Mrs. Richard Groves of Ann Arbor, and Margaret Home completed the list of bridesmaids.

Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor's, and they carried yellow carnations with yellow iris.

Richard Morrison was his brother's best man. Both are sons of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Morrison of Bird street. Richard Broxton, Richard Groves, Richard Home and James Runkel seated the guests.

FOR HER DAUGHTER'S nuptials, Mrs. Riddell chose a pure silk gold cocktail-length dress, with a matching straw hat, gloves and shoes. Her corsage was formed of tallman roses.

Mrs. Morrison was in an azure blue crepe dress with a jeweled collar. She wore a white straw hat and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Devin Gables was the scene of the reception and supper which followed the vows. After a week-end trip to Indiana, the couple will make their home on Bloomfield Court.

The bride's going-away outfit consisted of a wool suit of light gray flecked with black, and a black straw hat.

Ann will be a June graduate of Highland Park Junior College. Her fiancé is an alumni of Baldwin High. No immediate plans have been made for the wedding.

Morgan-Pearson Engagement Told

Joining the ranks of the bride-elects is Anne Delores Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan of Highland Park. Her engagement to Dale Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson of Lahser road, was revealed at a recent party for the couple's friends.

Red Cross 'Alums' To Meet for Lunch

Men and women who served overseas with the American Red Cross during World War II will gather to swap reminiscences at a special Michigan Day luncheon at the Veterans' Memorial building Saturday.

The one o'clock luncheon is sponsored by the Detroit unit of the American Overseas Association. Val Clara, news editor for station CKLW, will be guest speaker.

Those attending will be Mrs. Valerie Simpson of Derby road, president of the Detroit unit of AOA.

WITH THE Collegians

One of the 60 students named to the Dean's List at Hobart College, Geneva, N.Y., was John Gianetti, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gianetti of Yorkshire Road. John, a freshman, is a graduate of Baldwin High School.

AAUW Puppeteers Launch New Spring Production

What are little girls made of? Paper and paint, screws and string. Straps of lace, most anything. What are little boys made of? Fine and plastic, lead and leather. Old fishing line to hold them together.

Anon.

NOT ALL BOYS and girls of course fit the above description, only those designed by the Birmingham Puppeteers of the AAUW. The group, known as "Gina and the Talking Horse" is in the making. The Puppeteers are found frantically rummaging around for odd bits and articles to be used in the marionettes' anatomy.

With the increase of activities, more detailed organization was required. Consequently last year, the members elected two co-directors and created three divisions: designing, publicity, construction and production.

The publicity group, headed by Mrs. Thayer Cowman and Mrs. Calvin Dennison, handles com-tracts, sponsors and display work. Construction members, under the direction of Mrs. James Scribner and Mrs. James Sidall, include Mrs. Harold Greenwood, Mrs. Ernest Kuehl, Mrs. Joseph Merrill, Mrs. Jack Moore, Mrs. Frank Mosher, Mrs. George Coleman and Mrs. Schwimmer.

This is the group that designs, constructs, costumes, and strings the marionettes in addition to painting scenery and making all the necessary props.

The production group is responsible for the original script, casting, direction, rehearsal and presentation of each play.

Dovetailing the activities of all three groups are Mrs. Charles Bigelow and Mrs. Robert Von Maur.

the cost of stage equipment, materials and transportation, thereby enabling the group to give shows at children's homes, hospitals and other charitable organizations.

Delta Zeta Alumnae Gather in Kalamazoo

State Day for alumnae of Delta Zeta sorority will center around a luncheon Saturday at the Harris Hotel, Kalamazoo.

Dr. Charles Brown, professor at Western Michigan College of Education, will speak on "Youth and Its Moral Obligations in the World Today."

Honored guests will include Mrs. Russell Costello, of Pine Lake road, national vice-president; Mrs. Harold McCracken of Detroit, province director and president of the Detroit alumnae chapter; and Mrs. Forbes S. Hascall of Birmingham, president of the Oakland County Alumnae group.

A NON-PROFIT organization, the Puppeteers are sponsored by churches, women's clubs, sororities, men's service clubs and PTA groups. This sponsorship helps defray

Local Talent Goes 'All Out' In Music Week

As the dates for Music Week, May 4-11, approach, the calendar is becoming dotted with plans for concerts and programs featuring local musicians.

Latest announcements list programs at the Veterans' and Marine Hospitals and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Included in the festivities for the opening of the St. Joseph Nurses' Home on May 7 will be a concert at 7:30 that evening. Featured artists will be Maria Rising, pianist, and Alice Barford, violinist.

Miss Barford will play Vivaldi's "Concerto", Bach's "Gavotte in E Minor", and Kreisler's "Schon Romarin".

Miss Rising has scheduled Brahms' "Intermezzo", Godovsky's "Alt Weis" and Lask's "Valse Arabesque".

A WEDNESDAY afternoon, May 7, program at the Marine Hospital features the Birmingham High School Quartet; tap-dancer, David Schulz; pianist Dorothy Ojala; and blues-singer Lea Mae Marsh.

The High School Quartet is made up of Jamie Barnes, John Hayes, John Hubert and Roger Johnson.

The same performers will be joined on May 9 by the thirty-piece Bloomfield Hills High Choir under the direction of Clarence Luchman for an afternoon program, the Dearborn Veteran's Hospital.
