'Curious Savage' Is Scheduled For An April Showing

A teasing title and amusing lines mark "The Curious Savage," the light comedy to be produced by St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook at the Cranbrook Pavilion on Friday and Saturday, April 19-20 and 21-22.

It will be the first Detroit area production of the play which was presented on Broadway by the Theatre Guild.

"The Curious Savage" was written by John Patrick, whose popular comedy, "The Hasty Heart," was also introduced locally by St. Dunstan's a few years ago.

THE PLAY recounts the actions of a sprightly, middle-aged lady who suddenly kicks over the traces of convention and sets out to do all the wonderful things she had never been able to do during a long, colorless marriage.

Attended by a ten million dollar estate, she dies her hair blue-white, writes a play and goes on the stage. But she is thwarted by her step-children who covet the money and commit her to a private sanitarium which is the scene of the play.

"THE CURIOUS SAVAGE" is being directed by Marjorie Smith. Mrs. Otis C. Thompson is acting as production manager.

The set has been designed by Mrs. John W. Blanchard, Mrs. Richard Hintermeister and Harry S. Booth. It is being constructed by Richard Hintermeister, William Meagher and Henry Jackson.

Others on the technical staff include Mrs. Edward T. Bennett, Mrs. John T. Carter, Mrs. William Martin and Mrs. William Crawford, proprietors; Edward Schneider, lights; Mrs. Robert Field, lines; Mrs. Thomas K. Evans and Mrs. Anthony Bandell, costumes; and Mrs. Frederic Weed, who is in charge of make-up.

Mrs. Rawson Vaile heads the ticket committee, assisted by Mrs. Muir Lind, Mrs. Syver Thinstad, and Mrs. Carl W. Moyer.
