It has been said that "imitation is the sincerest flattery." That may be so. But, on the average, those who imitate are a class of your own species seldom ever attain the stride of originality that you possess. To be good is to court imitation.

Lt. McDonnell Wed In Indianapolis

Spiral candelabra with cathedral candles and vases of pink roses banked the altar of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Indianapolis Friday afternoon when Jane Speed Nickell became the bride of Lt. Miles' Chapline McDonnell, USAF.

The chancel was filled with heavy laurel garlands clustered with the same pink bridal flowers, and the pews of the long aisle were marked with green laurel roping, accented with sprays of pink roses, asters and rubrum lilies.

Lt. McDonnell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward McDonnell of Larchlea drive. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brock Nickell of Indianapolis.

The BRIDE exchanged vows in a princess style gown of white Chantilly lace fashioned with a fitted bodice and V neckline with a Queen Anne collar. Her skirt of lace fell to the floor and finished in a full length cathedral train.

A veil of illusion fell from the bride's Tudor cap. Worn previously by her mother, the cap was fashioned of French princess lace embroidered with seed pearls.

The bride carried a shower of "pearl-encrusted" stephanotis, fleur d'amour, white spray orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mr. J. W. Best of Richmond, Ind., was her sister's matron of honor. Preceding the bride down the aisle were Joan Warrander, Carol Lynn Blackburn, Patricia Shadelow and Betty Allen.

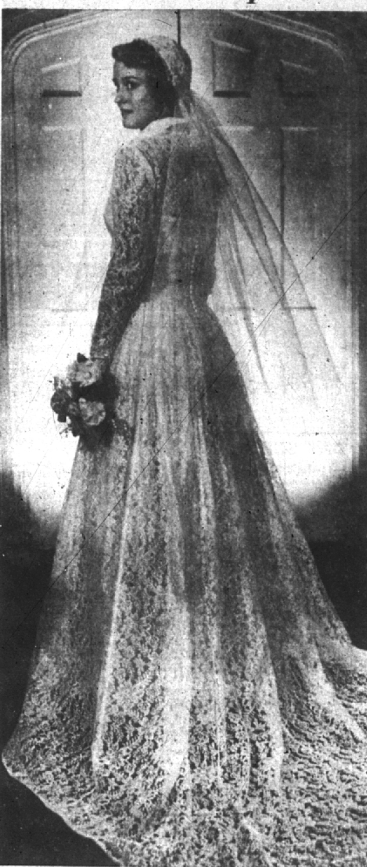

Completing the procession was flower girl Nancy Best who wore a short white organza dress with a Dresden blue taffeta sash and a lace collar. She carried a miniature basket with narrow streamers of French blue velvet and filled with pink rose petals and sweet-heart roses.

THE BRIDESMAIDS and matron of honor were gowned alike in Dresden blue imported lace over taffeta with fitted bodices and full, waist-length skirts. Their dresses were topped with Eton jackets and they wore large pale pink Satin hats tied with blue velvet ribbons.

The attendants carried baskets of pink sweetheart roses and rubrum lilies.

Thomas Edward McDonnell, Jr., was his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Donald Smith of Indianapolis, Lt. Donald McKing of Janesville, Wis., Lt. Joseph Guth of St. Louis, Mo., Lt. Richard Dickerson of Lapel, Ind., and another brother of the groom, Roger McDonnell.

A reception at the Meridian Hills Country Club followed the nuptials.

Chantilly Lace Worn By Bride For Saturday Evening Ceremony

A bouffant gown of Chantilly lace was chosen by Winona Jean Smalley for her August 9 marriage to Neil T. Jordan.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. George Smalley of Desplandre road, and the late Mr. Smalley, wore a skirt of nylon tulle over a shimmering satin underskirt. A fitted bodice featured tiny buttons down the back and the gown's long sleeves ended in points over her hands.

Her chapel-length illusion veil was held by a coronet studded with seed pearls. The bride carried a white ecru-toned bouquet.

THE PAIR repeated their vows on the gladiolus-banked altar of the Clawson Methodist church before the Rev. P. G. Trembath. The candlelight ceremony took place at eight o'clock Saturday evening. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Earle Schenck.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Winifred Jordan of Van Dyke and the late Mr. Jordan.

Judith Smalley attended her sister in a bouffant gown of pink tulle over satin. A head-dress of pink illusion veiling and a pink colonial bouquet completed her costume.

The groom's brother Bruce Jordan was his best man. Ushers included the groom's brother-in-law Herbert Offord, and his cousin, Alvin Akers.

MRS. SMALLEY attended her daughter's nuptials in a navy and white print with white accessories.

Mrs. Jordan was in a gown of midnight blue with matching accessories. Both she and Mrs. Smalley wore corsages of white carnations.

Soloist Eunice Smalley, the bride's sister, was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Alma Schlottkebeck.

A reception was held at the couple's new home on East Lincoln road. When the newlyweds left for a brief wedding trip, the bride donned a shrimp pink suit with white accessories.

Ushering Chores Rewarded By A Benefit Performance

If the ushers at Will-O-Way Summer Theater have looked familiar during the season, it's because the corps is drawn from the nearby Kirk-in-the-Hills Couples' Club.

This is the second season for the project, under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Severy. In return for the group's performance, O-Way sets aside one night a season for a special benefit performance. Proceeds will go to a special Kirk fund.

This year's benefit will be staged Monday evening, August 18, with "Lo and Behold" the scheduled dramatic play. Ticket sales for the event are being handled by Charles Cooper.
