More Letters to Santa Claus from Birmingham Children

December 4, 1952
Santa Clausland, N. P.

Hello, Birmingham!

It's Santa Claus again, announcing a lot more letters this week from those little boys and girls down there.

I noticed when I looked your town over the other day that you were all bundled up. That colder weather makes you think of Christmas, doesn't it? Well, it won't be long before that wonderful day will be here.

Y'know, I wish I could stay awake long enough to make another quick trip around the country, just so I could watch your faces when you see your gifts. However, by the time I dig the last package out of the bottom of my pack, and climb that last chimney, I'm so tired I just head Rudolph and the rest of the boys straight for home. It doesn't take any of us very long to fall asleep, believe me!

NOW, DOWN TO BUSINESS. The crews are working overtime to get all the things ready for you. Some of you have really loaded us down this year. Birmingham must be packed full of bicycles — or it will be after I unload my sleigh there.

And puppy dogs! My goodness, I'm going to sound like a hunt day in Old England with all those dogs aboard. If they all start barking and crying at the same time we'll wake up the whole world! But, like their little masters and mistresses, they're usually pretty good and I have very little trouble.

Well, time's flying. I have other letters to write and a lot more work to do, so—See you real soon!

SANTA CLAUS.
