

The most distasteful, disgusting and hypocritical of acts are those made by one person toward another when the former seeks something from the latter. Playing up to another, fawning upon another for personal gain, is lower than loaves.

Candlelight Ceremony Held Saturday Night in Detroit

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Daly Kuni are in Chicago in a two-week honeymoon following their wedding last Saturday, February 9, at All Saints Episcopal Church, Detroit. The former Joan Estelle Van champagne color. The bridesmaid, wearing toast-shaded gowns, were the bride's sister, Mrs. Samuel M. Jensen; her new sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert L. Van Arman of Grand Rapids; Mrs. William R. Joy, Jr., Ellen Kay Johnson, and Sarah Tutt of Prescott, Ariz.

Their dresses were identical in design, with long bodices, appliqued with fine gold metallic lace, complemented with illusion stoles and very bouffant nylon illusion skirts coming to floor-length points over ballerina-length taffeta underskirts.

Their headresses were small bands of taffeta and illusion. The attendants carried cascades of yellow roses and ivy. The maid of honor carried deeper toned Hibbard roses.

SIX YEAR-OLD Joel Van Arman performed the duties of ring-bearer for his sister.

Alan F. Martin of Ortonville was the best man, ushering were William H. Kuni, Jr., Roger Moser of Reading, Pa., Theodore Joslin of Alma, William R. Joy, Jr., Samuel M. Jensen and Robert L. Van Arman.

For the nuptials and following reception at the Detroit Athletic Club, Mrs. Van Arman chose a floor-length dress of lace in a purple violet shade, made with a sweetheart neckline and soft shoulder caps. Her small hat was of tulle and deep toned violets, and she wore a white orchid with purple tips.

Mrs. Kuni's dress was of pink Alencon lace. Her small contrasting hat was of powder-blue flowers. Her corsage was a white orchid.

FOR THEIR MOTOR trip to Chicago, the bride donned a navy blue dress with white cuffs, topped with a navy coat and brown fur scarf. A small white straw hat completed her outfit.

Her corsage was an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

When the couple return they will reside on La Salle boulevard, Detroit.

Birthdays, anniversaries, guests, births, parties are all new—the society editor about them.

MRS. WAYNE D. KUNI

Arman and the groom were united in marriage at a candlelight ceremony read by the Rev. Dr. H. S. Levering at eight o'clock in the evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Van Arman of Wildemere avenue, Detroit.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kuni of South Chester avenue, Birmingham.

JOAN'S WEDDING GOWN was of white satin, designed with a very full skirt and long train. The bodice and skirt panels were appliqued with lace, and the dolman sleeves were long and fitted.

A pearl-hand held her fingertip-length veil and she carried an arrangement of orchids, flours d'amour and stephanotis.

Mary Elizabeth Pearce, the maid-of-honor, wore a gown of

ANN BURKHARDT

Burkhardt-Hoge Troth Revealed At Family Dinner

Mrs. Orion P. Burkhardt of Kirkwood, Missouri, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Ann, to Wilmer Brown Hoge III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Brown Hoge II of Avon Lane.

The engagement was revealed at a recent family dinner at the bride-elect's home.

Following her graduation from Kirkwood High School, Ann attended St. Louis University. She also served as Kirkwood's representative to Girls' State and was selected Honorary Governor of Missouri.

Her fiancé, who served in the Army Air Corps during World War II, was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University where he was affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

The nuptials will take place in early summer.

Annual Trek to Sunnier Climates in Full Swing

Once again it is the time of the annual exodus from snow and ice ridden Birmingham to warmer, sunnier climes. Localites are flocking to the beaches of Florida, the coral sands of Bermuda, Hawaii's surf and Arizona's ranches.

Probably getting the farthest away from our wintry winds are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Uebele Jr., of Orchard Ridge road, who sailed from New York February 8 on the liner Independence. With Mr. and Mrs. George Swart of Grand Rapids, they will spend the next two months on a Mediterranean cruise.

Another vacationing localite leaving from New York recently was Joseph E. Moery who embarked on a Bermuda cruise. He returned by plane Sunday.

THE LURINE, plying the Pacific from Los Angeles to Honolulu, has not lacked local atmosphere this season, with four Birmingham couples making the voyage recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Van Fleet of Cranbrook road, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Clifton Randall of Shirley drive were aboard when the ship set sail for the Islands January 28.

Setting forth on the February 9th departure of the Lurine were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Jocelyn of Lakewood road, and Mrs. Kenneth L. MacQueen of Dunblaine avenue.

Newly-organized League To Meet February 20th

The first official meeting of the newly-formed Junior Friendly League will be held Wednesday, February 20, at the Dorchester road home of Mrs. John A. Dunkel.

The new group is composed of daughters and daughters-in-law of members of the present group, the Friendly League, and is headed by president Mrs. Thomas O. Poe. Among the officers is Mrs. Robert E. Fiell of Birmingham.

Formed primarily to assist needy families, the members make layettes for the Red Cross and donate blankets to the Florence Crittenton Hospital in Detroit.

Plans will be discussed at the February 20th meeting for a spring rummage sale and individual Bridge parties.

Merry Music Makers to Hold Sunday Gathering

The February meeting of the Merry Music Makers, junior music club affiliated with the Birmingham Musicale, will be held Sunday afternoon, February 17, at the home of Melinda Harrison.

The members are gathering material for their "round-the-world" scrapbook, with emphasis this month on Italy.

Playing piano solos Sunday will be Deborah Hutchings, Glen Orr, Sallie Dale Garabrant, Gerry Barber, Bonnie Bramblett and Jim Reilly.

U. of M. Students Dance in Island Atmosphere at J-Hop

All work and no play tend to make very dull collegiate juniors, but the University of Michigan annual J-Hop, an event of last week end, dispelled any such fears.

In keeping with tradition, the two orchestras played both Friday and Saturday evenings, with houseparties planned for the alternate night.

"Artistry in Orchid" was the theme of the South Sea decorations, and carried out further by the presentation of large orchids, as favors for the girls.

Ann Morrow was escorted by Dave Krupp, Beverly Brennen by Denny Booth, Adelia Wilson by Remsen Henry, Dee Dee Miller by Bob Levett, Ruth Oldberg by Bill Downey, and Sally Gnat by Neil Traves.

Rockford College Club to Observe 105th Anniversary

The University Club of East Jefferson avenue, Detroit, will be decorated with purple and white flowers Saturday afternoon, February 16, on the occasion of the Rockford College Club's annual Founder's Day tea, marking the 105th anniversary of the college's founding.

GUESTS WILL ARRIVE from two until four o'clock. Mrs. Grace Jamison Breckling, novelist, will speak informally to the group, which will be made up of alumnae of the Rockford, Ill., college and a number of prospective students.

Mrs. W. F. Tigue of Birmingham is among those serving on the program committee.

Have You Met . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Larue F. Lavery and their 14 year-old son, Robert? Former residents of West Hartford, Conn., they moved to 1226 Suffolk road in January. Mr. Lavery is manager of the central region of the New Departure division of General Motors Corporation. He is a member of the state bar of Michigan, the Town Club of Bristol, Conn., and the Bristol Chamber of Commerce.
