Leonard Takes on Sales of New Home Food Locker Unit

A new type of food locker, including a plan to purchase choice cuts of meats and high grade poultry, fish, vegetables, etc., at wholesale prices, is being launched in Birmingham this week by Leonard Electrical Co., 162-66 W. Maple.

"We have just become the sole sales outlet in this area for Amana Refrigerator Co., of Amana, Iowa, who produce this most revolutionary of upright home food locker units," said Russell H. Fisher of Leonard's.

"This economical and convenient food locker, together with the plan to purchase food at wholesale prices, already has won many users throughout the country.

"IN ADDITION to the locker unit, which the manufacturer guarantees will pay for itself through the savings in the cost of foods, a monthly bulletin with up-to-the-minute food news, menus and recipes is mailed to each purchaser," stated Fisher.

"The unit is an upright model which requires little floor space, yet has five horizontal surfaces for fast freezing. Food is handy to get at, too. In purchasing one of these units, we will help you in determining how much of various foods your family requires over a given period, and you have the privilege then of using the food purchase plan, if you wish," continued Fisher.

Two models, one of 12 and the other 18 cubic feet capacity, are on display at Leonard's.

High School PTA Plans To Hold March Meeting In New School Building

With the assumption of its new name to correspond with the school it represents, the Birmingham high school PTA will hold a regular business meeting in the new school on Tuesday, March 11, Mrs. Harry Gruber, president, said election of officers will be held.

The program will be given by Supt. Dwight Ireland, who will tell the "Story of Our New High School". Choice of architectural design, type of construction, heating and lighting, furnishings, maintenance and plans for expansion are some of the many points which parents are interested in.

Inasmuch as the board of education is not in complete possession of the building from the contractors, a full tour of the building must be planned for later in the spring, but parents will have an opportunity to view a classroom, the library, lobby and speech room.

Mrs. Kenneth F. Hardy, Barnum PTA program chairman, has announced the March 12 meeting will be held in the new high school. A discussion of the program, equipment and future plans of the school will be arranged for parents whose sons and daughters will enter that school next fall.
