

Flint Girl Becomes Donald Fisher's Bride

The Rev. David E. Moynaux officiated when Miss Frances Ruth DeBruyn became the bride of Donald A. Fisher in a semi-formal ceremony Saturday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church at Flint.

The bride's gown of swiss embroidered organza was styled with a petal collar, long sleeves, repeating the petal points. Her bouffant skirt was fashioned into a slight train, the hemline finished with double knife pleated dust ruffles of plain swiss organza.

She wore a Juliet cap of the embroidered organza beaded in seed pearls and a hip-length two-tiered veil. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis.

Her attendants were Mrs. Edward N. Harris of Flint; Mrs. William G. Plant of East Lansing, sister of the groom; Mrs. Rex Parsell of Flint and Mrs. Jack T. Duworth of Houston, a former roommate at Michigan State college.

THEIR MATCHING gowns of imported swiss organza in shades of green were fashioned with portrait necklines, embroidered bodices and full skirts of plain white organza over crinoline and tulle. With them they wore head-dresses of emerald velvet flat tailored bows and emerald slippers they carried bouquets of chalk white lilies, stephanotis and greenery.

Thomas C. Tucker of Birmingham was the best man with William G. Plant of East Lansing, Jack T. Steelman of Cleveland, Ohio, and Carl T. Blauman of Birmingham as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a gown of Dior blue silk shantung. Her small hat was of pressed lily of the valley, highlighted with yellow. Her flowers were yellow and white.

THE GROOM'S mother chose for her gown mauve pure silk shantung, with tinted pumps to match. She wore a small white hat and white flowers.
