deal in its favor. There may be times, at intersections, that it would block the view of the driver, but not very often.

"I do think that on the parallel parking streets you find more standing, waiting for another car to pull out. That's a danger in itself, and strikes me as being a selfish attitude. It seems as though that one driver doesn't care what happens to the others just as long as he or she gets that one particular spot.

"Not being a driver, I'm of the opinion that the easiest and safest way is to call a cab!"

"I would really hate to see Woodward avenue changed," was the reply from Mrs. Robert B. Gilray of North Woodward. "Angle parking isn't a bit more dangerous than the other and it certainly is a lot handier. I think that the easier a thing is, the safer it is. Furthermore, since we can't find places to park the way it is now, what in the world will we do when they take about half of that way?"

From her home at 1736 Big Beaver, Mr. Joseph L. Racine said angle parking is a lot nicer.

"It might be more dangerous, but it doesn't seem so to me. For the woman who drives the additional skill and strength needed for the parallel parking will more than outweigh the so-called dangers of the angle parking on Woodward."

A newcomer to Birmingham, Mrs. A. J. Collins of 1805 Mansfield road, also favors the continuance of angle parking on Woodward.

"It's no more dangerous than parallel parking," she said.

So there it is. From a group of women, all but one of whom are complete strangers to us, came a loud, concerted "NO!" Only time will tell how much influence these voices have.

As one lady put it:
"I don't suppose it will do us, or the objecting merchants any good, but it's giving us a chance to say what we think! It seems such a minor change, from the danger standpoint, and such a major one from the convenience of the shopper and benefit of the merchant, that I can't see the idea at all."

MRS. REMSEN B. HENRY

Heirloom Lace Cap Accents Gown of Saturday's Bride

Wearing a cap of Belgian lace, worn by her grandmother, mother and aunt, Adella Bunge Wilson, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Paul Rutledge Wilson of Puritan road, became the bride of Remsen Boren Hury Saturday afternoon.

The ceremony was held in Christ Church Cranbrook, with the Rev. William Mead reading the vows.

The bride's gown of candlelight satin was fashioned with an illusion neckline edged with seed pearls. The lace cap held in place a full length veil of tulle. Her bouquet was phalaenopsis, lilies of the valley and ivy.

Her sister, Nancy Tyndale Wilson was maid of honor and wore a ballerina gown of yellow marquisette and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

THE BRIDESMAIDS, gowned in blue, were Joan Pruitt of Chicago, the bride's roommate at the University of Michigan; Elizabeth Maude Drake and Mary Frances Sylvester, both of Birmingham; Virginia Schaffer of Commerce Lake and Mrs. William Hall Longenecker of Rockville Center, N. Y. Like the maid of honor, each carried a yellow rose cascade bouquet.

The groom, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Melvin James Henry of Plainfield, N. J., named Ens. Robert E.

Mitchell of Port Washington, N. Y., as his best man. Ushers were G. Richard DeHolt, Grosse Pointe; Ens. Robert C. Preston, Long Island, N. Y.; Ens. David W. Ledlick, Montague, Mich., and Ken Wilson, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a full length gown of gray nylon and lace with a hat of tiny gray petals. Her flowers were Rulapum lilies. The groom's mother selected candlelight chiffon with a jacket, hat and gloves to match. With it she wore brown bymbidium orchids.

AFTER A garden reception at the Wilson home, the couple left for a wedding trip to the Shenandoah Valley. They will make their home at Levittown, L. I.

For traveling, Mrs. Henry selected a monogrammed navy linen dress trimmed in red and white, with white accessories. She wore a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Among the 250 guests, friends and relatives were present from Hinsdale, Ill., New Haven, Conn., Syracuse, N. Y., Columbus, Ohio, Indianapolis, Ind., and Chicago.
