THEY'RE GRAND

Political Life Of '90's Slated By Will-O-Way

Right in step with the convention fever these days is Will-O-Way Playhouse, which opened up with the comedy "Orange Bedfellows" by Florence Byerson and Colin Clemens.

The play, reminiscent of Aristophanes' story of the boycott of women against their husbands, is about a family, split straight down the middle, on the question of equal rights. The male opposition in the household is strong, but the women pit their wits against the men, utilizing all the strategy and coquetry they can summon.

The device they finally arrive at to win voting rights provides a hilarious twist.

The story takes place in the 1890's in fashionable Nob Hill, San Francisco, conveniently but a short distance from the rowdy Barbary Coast, which figures lightly in the play.

A WILL-O-WAY favorite, Gerald M. Harrington, recently returned from New York will play the part of Matthew Cromwell, lover Betty Goodell. Who also has carried many leads at the Playhouse, is cast as his charming and new-comer to Will-O-Way, Mrs. Winceda Pilon of Stoney Point, Ont.

Burton Wright, as Senator William Cromwell, and Nicholas Phelan as his wife, Julia Cromwell, are the parents of Matthew. Red-headed Margaret Crosby, a veteran of the Bliss Hayden School of Dramatic Art in Los Angeles, a newcomer to Will-O-Way will play Addie Cromwell Hausdon, the Senator's daughter, wife to Gifford Hampton, played by Stephen Pope.

OTHERS in the cast are Carolyn Barron, Robert Risco, Loree Carmick, and Clyde Adler. A husband-wife team will be acting together for Leo Pope, wife of Stephen Pope, will be making her Will-O-Way debut as Mrs. Gimble. Lee is an exponent, as are Jean Feret, as Beulah, and Sandra Shipman, as Mrs. Worley, who will play "Orange Bedfellows" which will run through Sunday, Aug. 10, is produced and directed by William W. Merrill, founder of Will-O-Way Playhouse.

Helen Fontaine Becomes Bride of Roland W. Pilon

MRS. ROLAND W. PILON

The Rev. Lucian Hebert officiated at the nuptial high mass Saturday, July 19, when Helen Fontaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Fontaine of 1382 Smith, became the bride of Roland W. Pilon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winceda Pilon of Stoney Point, Ont.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of Guipure lace and nylon net over slipper satin. Her veil of double tiered French illusion fell from a Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls. A white orchid adorned her prayer book.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas S. Bilbo of Miami, Fla., a former classmate of the bride, wore white eyelet embroidered gown, with green accessories. She carried green sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Robert Fraux of Windsor, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Richard Caudell, of Detroit, cousin of the bride were bridesmaids. Their white eyelet gowns were accented with pastel pink accessories. Their flowers were nosegays of pink sweetheart roses.

THE GROOM'S brother, Paul Pilon, also of Stoney Point, was best man. Ushers were Richard Fraux and Arthur Trombley.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fontaine wore a street length, dress of pink lace with beige accessories and corsage of orchids. The groom's mother chose dark rose crepe for her gown with white accessories and a white camellia corsage.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast for 35 was served at Adrian Cotter's. An evening reception for 200 was held in Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Pilon left on a two week motor tour to Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec. The bride selected a white and black silk print for traveling, with black accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

They will make their home in Windsor.

Adams Rezoning Approved By Board

The city plan board Wednesday night recommended the rezoning of property on the east side of Adams between Ruffner and Holland to income bungalow classification to the city commission.

The property is now covered as a single family under deed restrictions.

The proposed rezoning, submitted to the board by Planning Technician Robert Boatman, "would protect the neighborhood against the possible increase in business use when deed restrictions are no longer in force," Boatman said.

The report held that the existing character of the neighborhood was residential but that the land might become inviting to small businesses.

The recommendation will be accompanied with a report from Boatman explaining the reasons for plan board action.

TELEVISION AERIALS

In the City of Birmingham during the last four years there have been four fires of serious proportions as well as numerous smaller fires started in homes from improperly installed television aerials.

These television aerials were struck by lightning and because of the absence of proper grounding, the lightning followed the aerial cable into the home and started a fire.

This is the season for heavy electrical storms and people without proper grounding on the antenna should consider the necessity of this extra protection for their own safety.

BRIEFLY, the proper method of grounding is to extend, with a tight connection from the aerial mast frame, a No. 6 copper stranded wire, a w.g. (American Wire Gauge).

Run this wire down the outside of the building to a 3/4 inch galvanized pipe, flattened on one end, and driven into the earth at least six feet. Connect the wire to the galvanized pipe with a tight clamp designed for the purpose.

Better still, if you don't have the time, discuss the matter with a competent electrician or television installer, to effect the type of installation. PLAY IT SAFE, for the protection of your family and property and have this small but important job done now.

Dwight D. Eisenhower

NO SHIRT-TAIL RIDER—

Fred M. Alger

Alger became an enthusiastic Eisenhower for president supporter more than a year ago, when the two met and talked over the country's needs, seeing eye to eye.

Alger was the first state official, and the only candidate for governor to endorse Eisenhower. He was criticized for doing so. It wasn't good politics. Good politics dictated that he ride the fence. He wouldn't because he believes the people should know where a candidate for office stands.

The Eisenhower-Alger combination is a natural. Both are agreed that the Nation's defense comes first. Both have proven themselves good and able administrators, Ike in the European zone, Alger as an efficient, economy-minded, three-term Secretary of State.

Both are full-time veterans of World War II. Both have records bespeaking unalterable hatred of dictatorships, Ike in arming the western world against Stalinist aggression; Alger as leader of the movement which ended machine rule of the Republican Party of Michigan.

They understand each other. It's a pair that can't be beat.

For Michigan and the nation, it's

IKE and FRED
