WORKMEN GET A GOOD START ON THE raxing of the old lmhoff sewage disposal plant at the south end of Linden. The contractor is attempting to salvage roof timbers and city trucks will fill the open tanks with dirf from street excavations in Crestives ubdivision as soon as the superstructure is removed. Plans call for grading and seeding the property as an addition-the small part where teen-age youngsters can play. Even the fancing will find another use: It will be erected at the city's deep water well on Derby. Built in the early twenties, the disposal plant's use was discontinued in 1938 with the exception of some use in storm water overflow sedimentation.
