

Barnum Junior High News

The new project in Miss Lillian Clavson's ninth grade art class is to make posters, which will be put in the stores in Birmingham to advertise Barnum's annual opera.

Margaret Seyferth and Mary Lou Crouch are head of the poster project. Those who are making posters are: Nancy Brown, Carole Goodhue, Susanne Taylor, Joan Stolarski, Joan Cummings, Mary Lou Crouch, Gail Smith, Cynthia Sloane, Jean Sullivan, Margie Seyferth, Janet Cully, Pat Page, Shirley Ann Sharpe, Ann Witherside, Carol Howlett, Judy Evans, Sally Garvey and Margaret Wiess.

In making these posters, the student must consider many things, such as the art laws and the art elements. Each one tries to make his poster stand out, yet easy to read so that anyone walking down the street will immediately be interested in the poster and stop to read it.

The posters are to be drawn and painted on the poster board during the week of the 24th.

THE OPERETTA, "Words and Music," by Horwell and Lee will be given May 26, circumstances permitting at 8 o'clock in the Barnum gymnasium. The operetta will include several dances which are as follows: Baton twirlers, cheerleaders, voodoo witches, jinxer's dance, modern dancers, toe and ballet dancers, and train dancers.

FRIDAY, MARCH 21, Club 36 held its debate on Presidential candidates, after their business meeting. After the debate the English class held a mock election.

The students were asked to vote on the way each debater presented his candidate. Senator Robert A. Taft won first place and Jerry White's candidate General Dwight D. Eisenhower came in second.

The eighth grade and Jerry White's candidate General Dwight D. Eisenhower came in second. Barnum in the last month of the year is Gretchen Klein, who lives at 446 Wellesley. Gretchen lives from Grose Pointe, Michigan. Another new girl in the 8th grade is Barbara Small. Barbara comes from Roseland, Ill. one Drivik num. She is from Southfield High School. Miss Stidham is a ninth grader and she comes from Detroit. Jeffrey Curcuro, also a new student, lives at 18603 Warwick and comes from Ferndale. A MEETING of the School Health Council was held on February 25, 1952. Present were: Margery Black, Paul Carter, Frances Curtin, Malcolm Ferguson, Virginia Pike, Lillian Gawie, Alfreda Purchase, and Carl Stanton. There were no student representatives.

The film, "How to Catch a Coach To Watch 37 Candidates"

A squad of 37, including seven letters, will be on hand for baseball Coach Vincent Seconie as soon as weather permits.

Despite the encouraging number of veterans, Coach Seconie said it will be impossible to give an opinion regarding the team's prospects until he has seen the squad work out.

Coach Seconie said that all positions will be open with preference going naturally to veterans. Returning lettermen are Gary Osterbeck, Tom Stinson, Bruce Wallace, Gordon Mutch, Bill Nichols, Tom Tracy and Gordon Peacock. Returners will start warming up shortly in the new field house, if ready in Baldwin Gym. Birmingham's first game is at Cranbrook, April 25.

Ticket Sale Ends For School Play

Class competition in ticket sales for Birmingham's second all-school play, "One Foot in Heaven" ended last Friday.

The junior class, which jumped into the rivalry lead, maintained it and brought home the trophy. Led by Miss Ruth Hull's honorarium collected $64, the juniors gathered in a total of $250.75.

The newcomers club recently organized to acquaint new students and visitors with the facilities of Birmingham high school.

A new student is shown the entire school by a member of the club who acts as a big brother or sister and helps the student feel at home and get acquainted.

Members also conduct visitors on guided tours of the building. To visit the finished areas takes approximately an hour.
