Bride-Elect is Feted at Parties Before Nuptials

Unwrapping shower gifts is second nature by now for bride-elect Evelyn Morse Fairbanks as the date of her nuptials to Robert J. Carnahan approaches.

Evelyn, daughter of Mrs. J. Morse Fairbanks of Purdy street, and Robert, son of B. H. Carnahan of Pierce street, and the late Mr. Carnahan, have chosen Saturday, March 29, for their wedding at the First Methodist Church.

Among those hosting bridal showers were Mrs. John Brennan of Floyd street, Mrs. James Doyle of Pontiac and Mrs. Frank Reynolds of Aspen road.

Yet to come is the Sunday buffet supper for Evelyn and her fiance which Mrs. Kathleen Dahlem of Detroit will give on March 16.

Mrs. Fairbanks will entertain the wedding party and members of the families at the rehearsal dinner at Devon Gables Friday evening, March 28.

Busy Program For 'B'ham Newcomers

If you are new in Birmingham (within the last three years) you can count on three Thursdays a month being rather busy.

The "Newcomers' Club," which holds its events at the Community House, sponsors an afternoon of bridge from one until four o'clock the first Thursday each month.

The second Thursday evening of the month finds newcomers dancing, playing cards and getting better acquainted in the Community House "Ranch Room."

Thursday, March 19, will have Ed Dingler calling square dances from 8 until 9 p.m. for the month of "Mixers". The remainder of the evening will be devoted to ball-room dancing and cards.

The third Thursday of each month is the date of the regular monthly "Newcomers' luncheon" which begins at 12:30.

Parties Precede Shepard-Peden March 22nd Rites

Already pleasant memories are a great many of the pre-nuptial parties for Mary Peden and her fiance, Lawrence Sanders Shepard.

Since the bride-elect is a student at Michigan State College, the festivities have been divided between East Lansing, Rochester, her fiance's home, and Birmingham.

The schedule of studies also dictated the timing of the parties.

RUTH OLDBERG took advantage of the Christmas vacation to host a buffet supper and miscellaneous show. Before the girls scattered to distant campuses, Martha Miller gave the spinster dinner.

Other February parties were given Mrs. Wayne Dennis and Joyce Pixley of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Smith of
