THESE MEN buy their own gear. They maintain and repair their own radio equipment. The radio equipment in use at this station, for that matter, part, has been donated by individual amateurs who have sacrificed equipment from their own stations at their homes. This too is maintained by the individuals at their own expense.

HOW DO YOU readers feel? Is it not too expensive for you to spend for protection for your family in case of an emergency? Over and above the expense paid out by the amateurs in radio, is the amount of time each radio man has devoted to the protection of the people of Birmingham.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS High Water Haze bluegills and many other species. Pike, in particular, will thrive in drainage ditches and swamp lands tributary to lakes—areas that cast iron water birds and dry a year ago. This year's record-breaking smelt run made it possible to clip practically anywhere along the shores of the Great Lakes because the silvery little fellow foundered in the new spawning grounds in hundreds of thousands of new drainage outlets created by flood waters. Other and Tawas—a stretch of a good 20 miles—cars were parked in a continuous line on both sides of the highway, while their owners caught smelt along the entire Lake Huron shore. About 10,000 people dived in the Tawas area alone on a single night! The take-home payoff for clippers who reach an all-time record this spring.

Disposal District Admission Studied By Commissioners The City of Birmingham may become a member of the South-eastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal District, at least the east side of the city may be brought into the district.

THE COUNTY BOARD of Supervisors would also have to adopt an ordinance amending Ordinance No. 1987 in order that the east side of the city be included with it in the disposal district.

Hold Up Decision Birmingham city commissioners are withholding for one week their decision on the purchase of cast iron water pipe, if they keep a lower inventory, they wish to see quoted prices will apply to a single carload of pipe, rather than the car and a half on which bids were submitted. The pipe is intended for the proposed water line on Bradford and the Melton and Mansfield extension.

Fishing Holes Move Your favorite trout pools may have moved a few hundred feet—or they may have disappeared altogether. Spring freshets don't have too much effect on the contour of river bottoms, but when flood stages continue for any length of time, as they've done here in Michigan, there'll be some changes made. Still, sand and gravel move like straws in hurricanes when high water hits. The old fishing holes you've known for years fill up. New channels are cut, especially near a bend in the stream. Bank erosion takes place destroying those hot-weather hiding places for trout. And, worst of all, trout streams, some of the larvae of flies, clinging to stones along the bottom and waiting to hatch later in the season, may be washed away and destroyed. This obviously can have a profound effect on fish food.
