New Firm Locates in Davis Bldg.

Announcement was made this week by Elmer Sylvester of the organization of E. L. Sylvester and Associates with headquarters in the Davis Building on Pierce Street. The manufacturers being represented in Michigan are Great Lakes Paper Co. of Chicago, Bolta-Carpent, Inc., of Owosso, Mich. and Nameplate and Monogram Company of Spencerville, Ohio.

Great Lakes Paper Co. is a fabricator of government specification packaging materials. Their facilities for producing moisture and grease proof bags and pouches, established during World War II, have been expanded to serve defense industries throughout the country. Bolta-Carpent, Inc. is a subsidiary of the Bolta Company of Lawrence, Mass. which has been prominently identified with the plastics industry for almost a quarter of a century. As a pioneer in the injection molding field, it was one of the first to mold nylon successfully.

IT SUBSEQUENTLY expanded into the development of plastic sheeting. From the Bolta Laboratories has come Boltoner, a new plastic with exceptional impact and chemical resistance qualities.

To serve the interests of the automotive and appliance industries throughout the midwest, Bolta-Carpent, Inc. has been established with a modern plant in Owosso, Michigan. Custom injection molding with special provisions for nylon and three-dimensional vacuum plating will be provided by the new Owosso plant.

Nameplate and Monogram Company, with stamping, plating and assembly plants in Spencerville, Ohio, specializes in the manufacture of ornamental molding, body trim, nameplates and hardware.
