

It is wonderful to want to plant things in your yard and garden; to work among them as you did Nature in bringing them to fullness of their own lives; and to wonder about your yard and garden and just look at these plants you help to grow!

Orchard Lake Reception Follows Flynn-Welch Vows

Guests gathered at Orchard Lake Country Club Saturday evening to greet newbrides Mr. and Mrs. A. Thomas Flynn, Jr., following their nuptials at Christ Church Cranbrook.

The bride is the former Mary Elliott Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Welch, Jr., of Lone Pine road. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomas Flynn of Riverside, Ill.

The Rev. William Head heard the couple repeat their vows at eight-thirty in the evening. The bride stood at the altar in a gown of frothy white French lace and nylon net. Points of lace were applied on her bouffant net skirt ending in a circular train.

French lace formed her fitted lace bodice, high neckline and long sleeves which formed mitts over the bride's hands. Her fingertip length veil was of heirloom rose-point, Brussels lace and illusion.

The bride carried staphanotis, orange blossoms and white orchids.

MRS. DAVID B. MOTT was her sister's matron of honor. Her floor length white gown and small bouffant jacket was fashioned from embossed mousseline de soie over aqua taffeta. A wide sash of aqua taffeta formed a high bow which fell over her full skirt and crinoline underskirt.

The bride and her bridesmaids in head band was accented by the spray of deep colored gerbers which formed her bouquet.

In identical costumes were bridesmaids Ann Kuhn of Salisbury, Md., Mrs. Robert C. Fick of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. William Fitzgerald of Pontiac, Mrs. James Herbst and Joan Pasher.

WILLIAM FLYNN came from San Marino, Cal., to be his brother's best man. Completing the list of ushers were Robert J. Novak and Henry J. Weber of Riverside, Ill., George Gow of Toledo, O., Edward C. Monahan, Harry N. Wietling III, Charles N. Campbell, and James H. Herbst.

A floor length gown of thistle rose Chantilly lace and nylon net with a lace bolero jacket was chosen by Mrs. Welch for her daughter's wedding. Matching orchids were her flowers.

Mrs. Flynn attended the nuptials in a floor length gown of soft copper-headed silk. The neckline of her Zion jacket was finished with sea pearls and brilliants. A matching hat and cybodiam orchid corsage completed her costume.

When the couple left on a Southern wedding trip, the bride was wearing a wheat colored raw silk suit with a flared skirt. Her accessories were of cocoa brown and white set off with an orchid from her bouquet.

After June 20 Mr. and Mrs. Flynn will be at home in Oak Park, Michigan.
