WHERE LEO FLYNN leaves his home at 321 Pierce these days he places his whole trust in King, his Leader Dog collie, and goes b'thery on his way. He and King have been traveling around the city since they completed their joint-training at the school near Rochester a couple of months ago. The 20-month-old collie guides his master on a weekly jaunt to Pontiac (where Flynn is taking a course in typing) and conducts him safely around Birmingham streets. Only last week, he halted Flynn during a walk and after considerable search, Flynn discovered a ladder leaning against a building. "It's wonderful the things these dogs know and the job they do," Flynn observed. "I don't know what I'd do without King. He's only a young dog, but he takes every minute of his work very seriously."

Accident Reports Last Month Top All 1952 Records

April set the worst accident record for the year in Birmingham. Increases were noted in Birmingham. Increases were noted in Birmingham. Increases were noted in Birmingham.

May 10, 17 Final Bike Check Dates

Birmingham youngsters are reminded by the police department and Kiwanis club that only two Saturdays remain for free bicycle inspections.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

Up and down Michigan trout streams on the opening week-end fishermen argued: Had the trout streams? Or did you hold with the school that contended trout fishermen couldn't ever be wood away from the thrill of that long-awaited opening week end?

Costly Project
It costs real money to hatch a trout, raise him to legal length, transport him from the hatcheries and release him in a stream that may be many miles away. The nature said to be about 40¢ per fish. On a million-fish allowed in a little alarming—$400,000.

Oh, yes it can
Fire always picks on people who think "it can't happen to me."
Nobody expects a fire next week.
But sensible people reason that a fire MAY occur to them any minute, and they get ADQUATE America Fire insurance without hemming or hawing about it.
And if they now have insurance, they check it to see if it is sufficient to pay for rebuilding at TODAY'S COSTS.
Come in and talk fire insurance with us today.
