Arts Awards Given To Cranbrook Boys

It was announced by Mr. C. Warren Moore head of the School Arts Department, that nineteen students from Cranbrook School have been awarded prizes in the Southeastern Michigan Scholastic Arts Award Exhibition at Crowley Milner and Co., Detroit, Mich.

A gold achievement key, the highest award, was presented to Pete Beole for a raised copper bowl and to Ron Hummel for ceramic sculpture. Pehr Anderson won two keys—one for a silver pin of modernistic design and one for a silver bowl mounted on an ebony pedestal. All the pieces which were awarded keys will be sent to Pittsburgh for the national contest.

Places were awarded to Leo Buttel and Dwight Davis for ceramic work; Dave Mersan for a head modeled in clay; Richard Schultz for a block print; and Dave Williams for an oil painting.

James and George Robertson, nephews of Miss Beverly Jongeward of Birmingham, were awarded prizes for their work, which was also exhibited in the Southeastern Michigan Scholastic Arts Award Exhibition.

James was awarded one key, which is the highest possible award, and one piece for dress design, while his brother, George, won a key for a block print which he designed and made in the Cranbrook shop where he and his brother work.

BHS Plays Bolivia in UN Conference Site At Hillsdale

Three Birmingham students and their instructor represented Bolivia in the mock United Nations meetings, at the fourth annual Hillsdale Conference recently at Hillsdale College.

The Rotary club sponsored Mary Adams, Dudley Chapman, Sara Dunn, and Howard Love, instructor in civics, as representatives from Birmingham. The other high school delegations, each of whom represented different countries, were also sponsored by various civic organizations.

The conference, aimed at acquainting students from high schools throughout Michigan with the UN functions, was attended by Birmingham for the third time.

At the first general assembly, a general chairman, as well as the chairmen for the many committees, was selected. After the election, delegates spoke on issues of concern to the nations they represented.

Representatives were free to attend any committee meeting after the first assembly had adjourned.

The Birmingham delegation spent its time in the political and security committee and the disarmament committee.

Several months before the conference, Hillsdale College assigns a nation to each high school invited, allowing delegates to study their nation's attitude on matter of concern.

Russia was imitated as well by the Port Huron representatives that most of the other nations were discussed with them by the end of the conference. An exciting climax came when the Russian delegation walked out of the meeting.

In the evening, James A. Eldridge, Midwest field director of the United Nations association, spoke on "U.S. Foreign Policy and the United Nations."

The next morning committee meetings were resumed after an evening of dancing, games, and swimming.

At the second general assembly reports were given and committee proposals debated. The various issues were then voted on.

Donald J. Phillips, president of Hillsdale College, spoke at a luncheon in the college field house, ending the conference.

Maples Romp Over Bathers In First Win

By RON BARBER

Birmingham high school's baseball team chalked up a victory number one last Wednesday, defeating Mt. Clemens 2-0.

It was the wildness of the Bathers' three pitchers, coupled with five errors and eight walks, which aided the Maples.

The first scoring in the game and the only for Mt. Clemens occurred in the first half of the third inning. Carl Pingel, third sacker, walked and on the strike-rod of the next batter, stole second. Jim Krause, next batter, connected for a two-base knock, scored.

The Bathers' best hitter, was next up. He hit a single to score Krause for run number two. Strong was put out attempting to steal second and the next batter struck out to end the inning.

The Maples' big rally came in the fourth after they had acquired one run from four consecutive walks in the last of the third. Mickey O'Connor, first up, led off with a single to left. Bob Taylor reached first safely on an error by the shortstop. A sacrifice by Jerry Wedge moved the runners around into scoring position.

Dave Roehm beat out an infield bouncer when Mt. Clemens tried unsuccessfully to cut off O'Connor from scoring. Bruce Wallace then walked, leading to the bases. Tom Tracy, Maple hurler, doubled to left field, scoring all three men.

On the attempt to cut off one of the runs, Tracy made it to third. This was all for Bather pitcher Steve Phillips who had come in for the Bathers in the third.

Gordon Mutch adding to their woes, pounded out a single to score Tracy for the last run of the inning.

Two more runs were pushed over by the Maples in the next two innings for a final score of 8-2.

As a Matter of Fact ...

Out of all the newspaper and magazine columns I read, the ones I enjoy most are those that pack in a whole lot of facts—unrelated facts, but each an interesting bit of information in itself.

These columns go something like this: "Did you know that humpback whales are addicted to snoring? That bees have been bred with red, brown, and buff-color eyes?"

"Did you know that lead can be converted to gold—at a cost of $1,000,000 an ounce? That a 565-pound fat girl went on a diet and lost 100 pounds in 12 months? That a chrysanthemum has been developed that smells like a violet?"

From where I sit, maybe I'm a kind of "Johnny-one-note." My own columns always seem to revolve around one idea—a plea for us to make sure we respect the other fellow's rights—like the right to vote, for your own choice or the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then. I may not be in style, but I believe my one fact is worth repeating—and remembering!
