

Club Women Congregate Tuesday For Monthly Town Hall Program

Tuesday, November 13, has been selected for the next Town Hall meeting sponsored by the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs. The program will begin at 10 a.m. at the Federation Club House, corner of Second boulevard and Hancock street, Detroit.

Mrs. Elsie Pison will speak on "Peace and Freedom Below the Border" before members of the international division. At the same hour the fine arts division will present Mrs. Thomas Devine who will exhibit items from her collection of American "Tote ware," and will demonstrate the art of bronze stenciling, using the technique employed by early 19th century artists.

The FINE ARTS group will also see a demonstration by Mrs. Edmund Cooper of the various stages in the creation of ceramics. Mrs. Cooper's work is original and is formed on a potter's wheel.

The art meeting will continue with a demonstration of the art of china painting presented by Mrs. Clinton L. Hunt. An instructor at Lincoln High School, Ferndale, and the Sabre Ceramic School of Detroit.

Rug hooking will be exhibited by Mrs. W. M. Lee.

At 11:45 a.m. Dr. Benjamin Jeffrey, mental health consultant to the Detroit department of health, will speak on "Detroit Meets Its Mental Health Needs."

THE PROGRAM will resume after luncheon. At 2 p.m. Helen Hadley Schuetzle, concert and radio soprano, will give an all-English program of folk songs. She will be accompanied on the piano by Gladys Carson.

The literature and drama division will present "Accessory Magic," a fashion show by Ruth Harris of Atlanta, Ga., concluding with a charm school and fashion shows for a local store.

More than 10,000 books were handled at the recent AAUW Book Sale, according to Mrs. Ralph Beebe, chairman, in reporting the results of the 25th annual sale.

More than 8,000 books were sold across the table, and 1,200 more were selected by librarians and teachers in the area and were paid for by an anonymous friend.

The remainder of the books were donated to Pontiac State Hospital, Juvenile Home in Pontiac, and naval hospitals.

In addition, 156 magazines, 189 pieces of sheet music, 194 records and 62 patterns were sold.

"The BULK of the purchases are all being used and enjoyed right here in Oakland County," said Mrs. Beebe, and the profits from the sale will go to educational and scholarship grants.

"The book sale board wishes to thank the Detroit Edition, Baldwin Library and all the contributors who made this 25th AAUW Book Sale the largest we have ever had."

Members of St. Anne's Guild will meet at noon next Wednesday, Nov. 12, at the home of Mrs. John Sadler, 785 Hamden, Birmingham, for luncheon. The meeting will include the election of officers and a talk on the sacrament of Holy Communion by the Rev. Richard Parrish of Holy Name church, Mrs. Stephan Kowalski, program director.

The month co-hostesses will be Madeline Ray Francis and Otto Schabert.

The Franklin Cemetery auxiliary will meet at the Community church at noon on Thursday, Nov. 13 for a luncheon and business meeting.
