MR. AND MRS. GERALD JOHN WOITYRA Repeat vows of Shrine

FOR HER nuptial the bride chose a traditional gown of white lace fashioned with a Queen Anne's collar, a fitted waist, full skirt and long, pointed sleeves.

A fingertip veil of tulle and a Juliet cap trimmed in seed pearls completed the bridal costume. The bride carried a spray of white roses centered with an orchid.

Margaret Woityra, the sister of the groom, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Judianne Rogers and Wendy Sanderson, both cousins of the bride.

Miss Woityra's Alice Blue gown was styled with a long net skirt and lace bodice. She wore a lace and net cap and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white baby mums.

THE BRIDESMAIDS wore floor-length gowns of sapphire blue velveteen with matching Juliet caps trimmed in net. Their colonial bouquets were composed of pink rosebuds and baby mums.

Joe Gerard was the best man. Seating the guests were Douglas Swords, Larry Osgu and James Hopson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Penberthy chose a street-length dress of blue and grey iridescent tulle with pink accessories. Mrs. Woityra wore a street-length dress of purple wool. Her accessories were grey. Both mothers wore white gardenia corsages.

A wedding breakfast at Devon Gables was followed by a reception at the Arlington drive home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Penberthy.

WHEN THE newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York state, the new Mrs. Woityra wore a blue suit with matching accessories and highlighted with a pink blouse.

They will make their home on Harvard road.
