Southfield PTSA Get Acquainted Sessions Planned

T.H. Hoffman, publicity chairman for the Southfield high school Parent-Teacher-Student association, has announced a get-acquainted meeting to be held Oct. 5. "The group feels it is important that parents of high school students, teachers and the students, themselves, should know each other better. To accomplish this they are planning a series of get acquainted coffee hours, the first to be held Monday."

Parents of ninth graders are encouraged to meet with the group at 8 p.m. in the high school. Other meetings scheduled are Oct. 13, 10th and 11th graders; Oct. 29, 8th grade; Oct. 27, 7th grade.

THE PTSA is founded to include students into the regular PTA plans and activities. It was based on the theory that students must have an understanding of the problems of parents and teachers in order to cooperate with them to the fullest. By the same token, parents and teachers get a better understanding of the students' problems.

Students are invited to visit waiting and participating membership in the association. A membership drive for the Southfield group was started Sept. 30.

Society deadline is 3 p.m. each Tuesday.

AAUW Makes Fund Donations

The library at the new Birmingham high school has received half of the $500 grant set aside by the Birmingham AAUW chapter for educational purposes.

Sharing the grant, Baldwin library is receiving $150, with the balance going to Blenheim Hills schools.

The selection of recipients was made by Mrs. Lawton Tabor and her AAUW committee, who met several times during the summer months to study the needs of various institutions.

The high school received its gift with the stipulation that the money be used to purchase reference books. The librarian, Mrs. Marion B. Murphy, will meet with a representative of the AAUW and various teachers to make the selections.

Mrs. Irving Mackenzie will represent the organization when selections are made at Vaughan school. Such funds are made possible solely through public support of the used book sale which the AAUW sponsors every fall.
