

'Woman of Achievement' Award To Local Red Cross Volunteer

Mrs. Lewis E. Daniels of Telegraph road has been named one of Detroit's 150 "Women of Achievement" in recognition of her training of over 1,500 Oakland County nurse's aides, including every class sponsored by the Oakland County Red Cross Chapter since the start of World War II.

Mrs. Daniels, a registered nurse trained at Massachusetts General Hospital, was formerly an instructor at the University of Michigan Hospital, and is now a member of the chapter's nursing services committee.

An action picture of Mrs. Daniels will hang in the round hall of the Detroit Historical Museum from mid-January through February.

OTHER NEWS from the Oakland County Chapter includes the appointment of Mrs. J. D. Edwards as new home nursing chairman of the chapter. The announcement was made by Mrs. Leroy G. Vandever of Bloomfield Hills, chapter chairman of nursing services.

Highlighting the chapter's fall program is the mailing of fifty EXECUTIVES AND volunteer service group chairmen from eight nearby counties will meet for the leaders of the Oakland County chapter on November 7 to discuss recent conferences on volunteer work.

Mrs. Ferd M. Broock, volunteer field consultant for the Midwestern area, has called the group for the Fox and Hounds Inn.

packages as the deadline for sending "Christmas-on-the-High-Seas" gifts to servicemen draws closer.

Mrs. Edmund Leavenworth of Pine street, the chapter's chairman of production, today called attention of all groups to the November 15 deadline for mailing overseas packages.

All packages being sent through the Oakland County Red Cross chapter, which is striving for a quota of 150 this fall, must be at Red Cross offices no later than November 3.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of Elmwood attended the first dance given by the Junior Friendly League of Royal Oak. Before going to Bonita Brook Country club for the dance, the Davises joined other friends at the Catalina avenue home of Jack Goggo. After the dance, the group gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sutton.

Mrs. Donn Juhl entertained her bridge club in her home on Olivia avenue last Wednesday evening. Making up the two tables were Mrs. Robert Patales, Mrs. Gabor Aufrecht, Mrs. Dan O'Rordan, Mrs. William Ransom, Mrs. John K. Kharer, Mrs. William Ransom, Mrs. John Kalcher, Mrs. William Buechler and Mrs. Maynard Zimmerman.

The Harry Patcholds of Robinson entertained the Seth Jewels, Henry Formberger and Alice Pellaris with a trip to Ann Arbor for the football game Saturday. Early in the day the group met at the Red Run Golf club for brunch. They made the trip to the stadium in a special bus and returned to the club for dinner and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker of the same street also went to the game in Ann Arbor.

The P. D. Moores of Guilford returned to Lansing for the homecoming game. They made the trip with the Jack Doyles of Royal Oak. Lansing friends joined Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Tompsett of Sheboygan, Wis. After the game, the same street also went to the home of the Frank Stiles for cocktails and dinner. The men, former classmates, are members of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Homecoming festivities in Lansing also attracted the Richard Ernsts of Elmwood last Saturday. They returned to the Phi Delta fraternity house for lunch and dinner. After the game they found time to stop at the new Gamma Phi Beta sorority house for coffee and doughnuts.

Friday evening Mrs. Ernst attended the "round the clock" shower given by Rachel Herbst for Joan Pasher. Tuesday evening she went to the home of Mrs. R. L. Jessup to attend a baby shower given for Mrs. Arthur Goller, Jr.

The W. J. Fitzgeralds and daughter Cathryn have returned to their home on Cooper avenue after spending last weekend in Wheaton, Ill. Fitzgerald went to Chicago early last week on business and was joined Friday by his wife and daughter. They attended the wedding of Fitzgerald's cousin, E. J. Wiesbrock to Marilyn Scott in St. Michaels Church in Wheaton on Saturday.
