

Marjorie Jean Patterson Saturday Afternoon Bride

Marjorie Jean Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knox Peterson of Dow Ridge road, Orchard Lake, became the bride of John Andrew Pflug in a double ceremony late Saturday afternoon in the All Saints Episcopal church of Pontiac.

The Rev. William Hamm read the service before members of family and close friends. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pflug of Green Lake.

For the four o'clock in the afternoon rites the bride wore a halcyon gown of pink-tinted tulle over tulle with applied Alencon lace. Her elbow-length veil was of matching tulle and she carried small white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Therion David Loughrin of Ann Arbor was her sister's only attendant. Her ballgown gown of soft pink beige taffeta was accented with a cap of matching tulle and she carried a spray of English violets.

THE BEST MAN was David Bennett of Grosse Pointe. Therion Loughrin and Adolph Nemeš served.

A navy tie-silk dress with white accents was chosen by Mrs. Patterson for her daughter's maid. The drapes formed her carriage. Mrs. Pflug also wore navy with a white apron.

A reception and supper at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. Among those coming from a distance were the groom's brother Warner who flew up from Pensacola, Fla. for the nuptials, and the bride's aunt, Mrs. Julian Spottswood of Palatine, Ill., who was accompanied by her two daughters, Lynn and Julie.
