News About GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 415 WING LAKE SCHOOL

Troop 415 has been working on favors for the Children's Hospital. The girls made paper snappers and inserted a note in the middle of each snapper.

Marguerite Schmidt brought the nibbles on the 17th of March. On March 24th the troop took their first hike of the season out to their leader's, Mrs. Thorne's, home. When they arrived the Scouts got busy and served cocoa and cookies and played games. The committees were: cooks; Patty Christensen, Barbara Chenshire, Bonnie Kelly, hostesses; Kathy Naughton, Vicki Allmon, Carol Geedelman; games; Penny Black, April DeVal and Sharon Thorne; clean-ups; Nancy Gould, June Casson, Joan Mischog.

TROOP 314 WING LAKE SCHOOL Troop 314 worked on favors for the Children's Hospital, and sent them along with those of Troop 415. Sue Gilpin brought the nibbles on St. Patrick's Day. On March 24th, Charis Gossan sent nibbles—she was unable to attend.

TROOP 303—PIERCE SCHOOL The Brownies of this troop had an investigation for a new member. The Brownies of this troop had an investigation for a new member. The Brownies of this troop had an investigation for a new member.

TROOP 324—FRANKLIN During the recent Scout anniversary celebration this troop made a Juliette Low poster showing Guides in other countries. They also sent letters to India and London and have received replies with many details on the Scout program.

Mrs. Willancourt, a former resident of French Morocco, showed collected slides of Africa. New officers of the troop are Elizabeth Campbell, president; Kay Stigleman, secretary-treasurer; Nancy Sampson, scribe. Nancy became a member a short time ago. The troop recently lost a member, Cheryl Upham, who moved away.

The troop is choosing majors for first class rank, and are starting to work on a sewing project.

TROOP 62—HOLY NAME This third grade Brownie troop was recently honored on the TV-WV TV program, "Circles in Clay," when Kay Harrison dedicated the entire program to them. Miss Harrison composed a poem, "What Is a Brownie?" in their honor, modeled it for them, and presented them with a doll to be used as a troop mascot.

In addition to Celine DeBecker who was personally interviewed by Miss Harrison, other troop members on hand were Susan Allen, Virginia Breslin, Jane Gatever, Margaret Huffy, Patricia Flynn, Patricia Hartman, Gail Hensholt, Mary Johnson, Mary Ann Jordan, Kathleen Kelly, Maryanne Lillis, Fleurette Lourain, Sally Lyons, Clara Morris, Carolyn Reiser, Mary Schelert and Margaret Young. The girls were accompanied by troop leaders Mrs. Frank Lynch and Mrs. Bernard Lourain. The troop recently visited Patricia Motter as well as St. Elizabeth's Home where they presented a program on St. Patrick's Day.

As Circuit Court Judges For Oakland County

Vote April 6th For

- PROVEN ABILITY
- INTEGRITY
- EXPERIENCE

Oakland County lawyers, the men who know the candidates best, overwhelmingly chose the three incumbents in a secret ballot as PREFERRED for reelection to the Circuit Court for Oakland County. These lawyers, working every day in the local courts, have proved once again by their choice that "There Is No Substitute for Experience."

The lawyers of Oakland County are proud of the record of the Oakland County

Circuit Court under the present Judges as disclosed by the report of the Judicial Council of Michigan, a statistical survey of the Michigan Judicial System. The survey discloses that our Judges spend more time on the Bench than other Judges, dispose of more cases, and that the period from the time the case is started until disposed of is remarkably short compared with other Counties.
