THIS & THAT (Continued from Page One) property owners have argued that all of the presently zoned business property be left without the legal necessity of providing parking space, (admitting that many would do so anyway) but that all property re-zoned to business in the future be required to have off-street space when stores are built on them.

IN THE MEANTIME, much practical patience is needed by all concerned—for an ordinance, as presently written, that could consume many hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of private property cannot be treated lightly. There is, and must be, an equitable solution to this off-street parking problem.

Draper Named To Board Deane A. Craper, garden road, Bloomfield Hills, was appointed to fill the vacancy left on the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education by board members Monday night. Craper will serve out the unexpired term of Max Fruehauf who recently resigned from the board. The term expires at the annual school election in June.

ABOUT TWO HOURS before Friday's "illegal" dance was to get under way, school authorities called in the club's officers and ordered them to call off the event. "That was the first time we knew about it, and the heat came from some parents," Wagner explained.

Will the school administration permit any school organization to hold an affair, with school approval, which may involve or include tam sessions or literebugging? Wagner was asked. "I do not know if I'm in a position to answer that question and make that decision," he answered.

WAGNER DECLARED: "I'm not going to get involved in the rightness or wrongness of this activity. We reserve the right to decide what activities will be permitted and approved as legitimate school activities."

CITY COMMISSIONERS Dean Baker and Charles Renfrew both advised the sympathetic members of the audience that the city certainly must at least consider the advisability of the Jackson-Walker central district parking problem.

RENEW ANSWERED: "The city commission has not definitely defined a policy of future growth. It has felt, however, it should be at least considered. But that necessary brings with it the demand for certain services that I, for one, certainly want to have to drive my car for."

CITY PLAN BOARD Member Robert W. Page succeeded in drawing from Hatch the admission that Birmingham does have a parking problem today.
