Fewer Traffic Accidents, But Injuries Gain

There were 117 persons killed and 3,325 injured in 12,528 traffic accidents in Michigan during February, according to the State Police monthly statistical report.

Deaths decreased four, or three per cent, under the 121 for the same month last year, but injuries increased 35, or one per cent, over 3,299. Accidents were down 965, or seven per cent, under 13,493.

The death toll for the first two months of 1953 was 256. This was 54, or 27 per cent, higher than the 202 recorded at the same point last year. Injuries showed an increase of 698, or 11 per cent, 7,279 over 6,581.

The decrease in accidents during February offset the high January figure and the total of 27,680 for both months was 782, or three per cent, below 28,442 for the same period a year ago.

THE FEBRUARY report pointed out that urban deaths were up sharply, but were offset by a decrease in rural areas.

Estimated travel in Michigan for January of this year, the latest information available, was 3.87 billion miles. This was an increase of eight per cent over the 1.74 billion miles recorded in January of last year. The death rate of seven per 100 million miles of travel was 49 per cent higher than the 4.7 rate in January of 1952.
