Child Study Club In Tuesday Session

The April meeting of the Birmingham Child Study Club will be held at eight o'clock Tuesday evening, April 14, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Burleigh, 1224 Fairfax road. Mrs. John Easterbrook and Mrs. Don Lightner will assist the hostess.

On the evening's agenda will be a play to be presented by a group of women from the Waterford Township PTA associations. A discussion will follow under the direction of Miss Freida Huggett, Waterford Township visiting teacher.

Have You Met . . .

The new residents of 2379 Pembroke street? Moving from Columbus, Ohio, in March were Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Gleffe and their two children, Barbara Jo, 2, and Bobby, 9 months-old. Gleffe is a member of the personnel staff of the college relations of General Motors. He is a graduate of Michigan State College. Mrs. Gleffe is a graduate of the Grace Hospital school of nursing.

MRS. JOHN WM. CARBARY

Peggy McPhail Says Vows In A Candlelight Setting

The First Baptist Church was banked in gladioli and stock and illumined by candlelight for the Saturday evening nuptials of Peggy Kathleen McPhail and John William Carbary.

For the double-ring vows, the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. McPhail of Ruffner street, wore a floor-length gown with French Chantilly lace over satin bodice and a nylon tulle skirt over Skinner satin.

Her satin bonnet was covered in matching lace and held a fingertip veil. A white orchid set in ivy and shattered hyacinth formed the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Gerald D. McPhail was her sister-in-law's matron of honor. She stood at the altar in a ballerina gown of white taffeta cut with a scalloped neckline and accented with a cummerbund of red velvet. Red velvet elbow-length gloves and a matching headdress with a short veil completed her costume, and she carried red carnations and ivy.

BRIDESMAID Donna Abbott was in a similar white taffeta gown with blue accents and a bouquet of navy carnations and ivy.

Gerald D. McPhail of Royal Oak was the best man. Ushers included William Carbary of San Fernando, Calif., the groom's brother. Both are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carbary, former Birmingham residents now making their home in San Fernando.

Other ushers were John O. LaPine and Harvey Haughom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McPhail wore toast-shaded gown with crepe skirt and a lace bodice to which she pinned a corsage of green orchids.

Mrs. Carbary was in powder blue with a matching hat and grey accessories. Her flowers were yellow orchids.

AFTER A reception in Ferndale, the newlyweds left for California where the groom will return to his Marine base and the bride to San Fernando Valley to make their home.

For traveling the new Mrs. Carbary chose a beige suit and hat with cobra accessories.

NEWS FROM Southeast of Birmingham

Among the collegians who returned home recently for spring vacation or the Easter weekend was James Reese, son of the Ralph W. Reeses of Elmwood Avenue. James is a senior dental student at the University of Michigan. He returned home last Friday for a ten day vacation.

Lorraine Parker, daughter of the Harold Parkers of Robinwood Avenue, spent a week with her parents. Millie Dickerson, a schoolmate, joined Lorraine at her home for several days. The girls attend Michigan State College.

Patty Burton, whose parents are the Thomas Bentons of Robinwood, returned home from Michigan State for a visit. She spent a weekend visiting the Harvey Adairs at Mt. Morris with her parents.

Judy Blake returned from Ypsilanti to her mother's home on Aberdovey last Friday for a ten day vacation. Saturday, April 11 Judy will be a bridesmaid when JoAnne Kolka, daughter of the J. J. Kolkas of Crooks road, marries Lee Malcolm of Detroit at the Shrine of the Little Flower. Judy's sister, Sheila, will return home from the University of Wisconsin at a later date.

Mrs. Alvin Robinson of Bembridge Road was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday luncheon recently. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harley Robinson, with the help of Mrs. Clem Robinson, arranged the surprise party, held in her home on Hickory Grove Road. Sixteen women who bowl together presented Mrs. Robinson with birthday gifts and enjoyed a buffet luncheon served at a table decorated in red and silver.

The Tuesday before Easter the Brownies of troop 441 were entertained in the home of Mrs. Hans Olsen, their co-leader, on Bembridge Road. In addition to games, each girl dyed six Easter eggs to place in a basket she had made from an oatmeal box. Mrs. Wilbur Karber and Mrs. Harry Rawlins assisted Mrs. Olsen with the activities while Mrs. John Duraco and Mrs. Art Bradley took charge of the refreshments.

Attending the party were Katherine Karber, Marcia Olsen, Kendall Ewing, Karen Graetner, Nancy Vickers, Christine D'Alleva, Suzanne Rawlins, Betsy Bradley, Susan and Mary Ellen Paulis, Jean Douglas, Dale and Jane Whitney and Joan Duraco.

Mrs. Frank Sellgren plans to give a birthday party tomorrow for her son, Tommy, who will be seven. She will use a clown centerpiece and provide each guest with a mask to create a carnival atmosphere. Jimmy Kincade, Jimmy Zorn, Dennis Pollom, Kenneth Starr, Bruce Blair and Tommy's brother, Frank, are expected at the Sellgren home on Groveland for games and traditional birthday refreshments.

The Ernest Swarts, of Rochester, New York, spent the Easter weekend visiting the Richard Swarts in their home on Groveland.
