Uncle Gives Bride Away At Candlelit Altar Rail

Frances Elaine Bendler, daughter of Mrs. Arthur P. Bendler of Westchester Way, and the late Mr. Bendler were given in marriage Saturday, August 1, by her uncle, Charles Trepud of Sebawang, Mich.

With Marquis Sells Johnson, son of Mrs. Percy S. Johnson of Pleasant Ridge and the late Mr. Johnson, she stood at the candlelit altar of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer early Saturday evening. The Rev. Theodore Wurgler, Jr., heard the couple repeat their vows.

THE BRIDE wore a gown of imported French Chantilly lace over tulle which in turn fell over slipper satin. A full skirt carried into a cathedral train with a lace-trimmed ruffle.

The bodice was fashioned with an illusion yoke and an off-shoulder neckline trimmed with clusters of sequins and pearls. The bridal veil

Production Staff Named For 'Dreamers on A Slack Wire'

The formation of a production staff for the dance drama "Dreamers on A Slack Wire" has been announced by co-producers Marion Nevill Kirk and Austin Jones. The original dance drama will be performed August 29-30 and August 27-29 at the Greek Theater at Cranbrook.

Set pieces and costumes for one of the large dance numbers are being designed by Betty Conn, Detroit sculptor who has exhibited in the Michigan Artists' show, the Michigan Craftsmen's Show, and a traveling exhibition sponsored by the Michigan Sculptors Society. She has studied with Carl Milles at Cranbrook Academy of Art and with Archipenko in Chicago.

TECHNICAL director of the production is local resident James Schneider who handled the lighting for the two previous dance-dramas, "Trinity in Tears" and "Millennium Sunday," and has been lighting technician for the St. Dunstan's Guild and the Cranbrook Summer Theater.

Pianists will be Judith Patterson, student of Edward Bredshill and Julius Chajes, who studied at the Paris Conservatory and who won the Sigma Alpha Iota scholarship this year; and Milton Set-
