WEST BEVERLY—Like a visit to another world was the Robert Artner's recent flying trip to Central America. Leaving their Hillcrest road home shortly after Labor Day, they flew first to Marida, Yucatan, where they took side trips by car to Mayan lodge, about 80 miles away, and to the 1300-year old Chichen Itza pyramids, which are reportedly larger than their Egyptian counterparts.

After a three-day stay in Managua, Nicaragua, during Independence Day celebrations, they flew on to the "little Switzerland" of Central America, San Jose, Costa Rica, where motor trips to Turris volcano, and to a retired U. S. Navy captain's orchid gardens highlighted their visit.

In Panama, the fabulous "Jungle Jim" arranged a side trip in a Piper cub plane to San Blas island, part of an archipelago of 300 islands 150 miles out in the Atlantic, where the Artners found a Detroit woman missionary working among the primitive San Blas Indians. En route back home from Panama, they stopped off for a few days in Miami.

A surprise party was given recently by the Donald Kalmbachs of Bedford road to honor his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kalmbach, of Detroit, on their 40th wedding anniversary. A buffet luncheon was served to members of the family and friends.

On Dec. 9, Beverly Hills book group members attended the annual AAUW Christmas luncheon, which is sponsored by the combined book groups of the organization. The day's program was a play presented by the Puppeteers. No regular meeting has been scheduled for the month of December.

Going in and out on cue was reduced to a very fine art by three West Beverly families last week. Involved in an intricate three-way moving operation, were the James Temples, the Thomas Hustedes and the William Dowdings, formerly of Louisville, Ky. On Wednesday, the

Xmas Program by Baldwin Children

Baldwin school fourth, fifth and sixth grade children will stage their annual Christmas production at the regular meeting of the Baldwin PTA at 8 p.m., Monday, Dec. 21.

The program will open with three Christmas carols by the fourth grade classes, followed by a fifth grade play under the direction of Robert Finnie. The school orchestra, directed by Harold Jones, will play a group of five Christmas selections.

A pageant, "The Christmas Story," features a narration by Mrs. Catherine Reed's sixth grade class, as appropriate carols are sung by the fifth and sixth grades and a presentation of the Nativity.

planned and directed by Louise Federici of the school faculty. The first, second and third grades will present their Christmas program Tuesday, Dec. 22 at 2 p.m. The program will feature a scene in toyland, a scene at home and a presentation of the Nativity.

Spend Christmas in Ohio
LATHRUP—Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Gannon, 18615 San Diego, will spend the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Gannon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gellenbach in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Society deadline is 3 p.m. each Tuesday.

The Wayne Settleachers of Hillcrest road have returned from a week's stay in New York, where he attended the NAM convention at the Waldorf. In addition to convention functions, they also attended the Christmas show at Radio City music hall, toured the United Nations building, and did some Christmas shopping. Visiting the Settleachers during the winter months, is her mother, Mrs. Roy Vanneman, of Lexington, Ill.

In line with their current study of international friendship, members of Girl Scout Troop 326 gave a progressive dinner yesterday, with a distinctly international flavor.

Starting with a Hawaiian fruit course at the home of Karen Keene on Evergreen road, they went on to Emily Tucker's Beverly road home for Italian pizza pie, then to July Kalmbach's home on Bedford road, where they were served a Viennese torte dessert and exchanged Christmas gifts. Under the leadership of Mrs. James Keene and Mrs. Harold Resoner, the troop has been making kits for Korea at its weekly meetings.

Visiting from Texas
LATHRUP—Mrs. A. G. Neubauber of Dallas, Texas, a former resident of Lathrup Village, has been visiting Mrs. Ray R. Downey, 1900 Morningside plaza, for the past week.

Jimmy McCarthy, son of the D. F. McCarthy's invited 11 guests to a birthday celebration in his Riverside drive home on Nov. 28. It was Jimmy's fourth birthday and his first party.
