

Adams Fourth Graders Express Their Thanks

Thanksgiving themes are probably the order of the day in schools all around the country. At least they were in Mrs. Mildred Whaley's fourth grade class at Adams school last week.

Following are 21 themes just as they were written by these fourth graders.

We Give Thanks For Freedom
I would like to thank God for lots of things. But most of all I would like to thank him for freedom. If the other country took over our land they would tell us when to go to the store and when we can not. But we are lucky.
We can do all most everything we want to do. We are lucky to be going to school. Some children do not have their parents. We are lucky we can go to church and Sunday school. Lots of people can not go.
Connie Taisey

One day my father and another man were going to Canada. There was an accident and my father had to go to the hospital. And everyone thought my father and the other man would die but they got better thanks to God. And then another time when my brother got a broken arm and God made him get well in a few weeks. And every day God helps you and I.
Tommy Heydon

What I Think of God
We all ought to be thankful for the heaven and the birth. And do you know that God made the heaven and the earth in six days and on the seventh day he rest. Now don't you that we have a great God. And when you go into a church you should not make a noise like talking you should go in and sing to God and be thankful for churches to go to and worship as we please. Our men went to war and had to fight for freedom and some of the men who went to America and everything we have. Joy E.

What I am Thankful for
I am thankful for my school and thankful for my house. I am thankful for my country, and thankful for my friends, and thankful for my toys to.
What everyone should be Thankful for.
Everyone should be thankful for their home.
And they should be thankful for their school, and thankful for their clothes.

Thanksgiving Day come usually on the last Thursday in November. It is to thank God for his kindness.
In 1620 about hundred people came to the new world to build new church and new house. They came to plant crop that season. They could not find enough to eat. The men hunted in the wood, but many had to go hungry. A number of them died during that first winter. When summer came to peopl planted grain. When the golden harvest had plenty of food for all. They said, "Let us have a feast and invite our friends, the Indians. Let us always set apart a day to thank God for his kindness to us."
