Birmingham Youngsters Write Letters to Santa Claus

More Third Grade Letters to Santa

Santa Claus tells us he has duly entered the requests of another group of Birmingham school children and is returning their letters to be printed in The Birmingham Eccentric.

This time he sends us the requests from the boys and girls in the third grade throughout the city.

"They are wonderful children," Santa said. "I love them all. Some of them have asked for some things which may be pretty hard for me to get, but I certainly will do everything I can to fill every order. I do hope the ones I am forced to miss will not be too unhappy."

Santa also asked The Eccentric to thank all the boys and girls for the snacks they leave him and his reindeer.

"Don't always have time to eat and drink everything that's left for me but I sure do try," he laughed. "Mrs. Claus makes sure my clothes are plenty loose when I leave home because they are really tight by the time I get back!"

There will be more letters coming back from Santa until just about Christmas time, so watch for them in coming issues of The Eccentric.
