

Candid Camera At Children's Party

The sixth birthday of Barbara Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Jenkins of Cranbrook road, was in the age-old tradition of children's parties. Ice cream and cake, pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey, a magician, and a beautiful summer day blended to make the occasion perfect for the "Now We Are Six" set.

Capital Comedy In Second Week At Will-O-Way

Going into its second week at Will-O-Way Playhouse in Bloomfield Hills is the sophisticated comedy, "Born Yesterday" by Garson Kanin. The play, directed by Bill Merrill, runs nightly through Sunday, July 19, except Monday, July 13.

"Born Yesterday," set in the political hubbub of Washington, stars Bette Tori as Billie Dawn, the dumb blonde from Brooklyn. Richard Davies is Harry Brock, the millionaire junk man who tries to "take Washington." Appearing in the role of Paul Verrill, the newsman who is hired to educate Billie, is Gerald M. Harrington.

Others in the cast include: Robert Bryson as Ed Devery, the decadent lawyer; Fred Morita as Senator Hodges, partner in crime; Peter Simluk as Eddie Brock, the bustling servant; Betty Beck as Mrs. Hodges, and Nancy Winston as Helen the maid.

THE WILL-O-WAY company for "Born Yesterday" also includes Millicent McIntyre, Gail Engels, Connie Smith, Dick Bailey, Paul Reynolds, Robert McNiven, Lawrence C. Rosley, Marilyn McGeorge and Arnold Lundmark.

Next attraction at Will-O-Way will be "Boy Meets Girl," the engaging comedy by Sam and Bella Spewack, which opens Tuesday, July 21. Starring in the satire on Hollywood will be Peggy Swanton of Fraser, who is making her first appearance on the Will-O-Way stage. Peggy has been associated with Roseville Civic Players and Detroit Civic Workshop Players.

"BOY MEETS GIRL" will run through August 2, with performances nightly except Mondays. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m. at the Playhouse, West Long Lake Road at Telegraph.

RHEBA SUE KAREET

Engagement Told At Cocktail Party

Cocktails Saturday evening in the Beach road home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Karlet revealed the engagement of their daughter, Rhea Sue, to Edward Frederick Avis. Avis announced he plans for their August 8 wedding in Christ Church Cranbrook.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Stevens College. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Avis of Bay City, received his degree from Hillsdale College.
