Dr. C. J. Matheny, of Bloomfield Glens drive, with Dr. R. A. Crouch and Dr. D. N. Aiken, all Doctors of Osteopathy, have opened their office in the building formerly occupied by the Walnut Lake Grocery, now remodeled into modern offices. The doctors will continue as staff members of Hygea Clinic and Hospital, thus making a wide variety of services available to their patients.

A family reunion has called Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jokela to Ely, Minn., where Mrs. Jokela's brothers and sisters have gathered from various parts of the country to visit their mother, Mrs. Jacob Johnson. Mrs. Jokela's niece and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schick, Kathy and Louise, of Detroit, are staying at the Jokela's Sunnycrest drive home.

MR. AND MRS. Burton F. Bingham of Inkster road have returned from a three-week trip to California. Their itinerary as they drove west reads like a travelogue, with visits to the Grand Canyon, Painted Desert, Ferris, Forest and other national parks. In California they stayed with Mrs. Bingham's son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kolk, at Santa Clara, making side trips to other points of interest. Their return was by plane.

Staying at Old Trail Inn near Harbor Springs are Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Banker of Comfort drive and their former neighbors, Dr. and Mrs. Guy H. Smith, who now live in Detroit. The Bankers' daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. John Rich and son James are staying at the Bankers' home.

PAUL CAMP has returned to his Sunnycrest drive home and expresses appreciation to his many well-wishers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ollar, Judy and Jeff are vacationing this week near Tawas and Oscoda, where they are visiting relatives. The Ollars have sold their Eastman drive home but have not yet made any definite plans for moving.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Keefe have had as guests and sightseeing companions Mrs. O'Keefe's sister and her husband, the Highty Schmidts of Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson returned July 9 from a six weeks' visit to England, their first in 33 years. Traveling the length and breadth of England, they visited relatives, particularly in the Lakes district. Although glad to see their families, the Wilsons say they would not choose to live there and are glad to be home.

JOAN CROSBIE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crosbie of Detroit, formerly of Walnut Lake, has been visiting at the Arle Latham home on Baintree.

A canoe trip down the Au Sable has taken Robert Smith of Eastman to Grayling, where he met J. Terry Taylor of Akron, Ohio, while Mrs. Taylor, Judy and Terry, Jr. remain at Walnut Lake with Mrs. Smith. The Taylors formerly lived in Birmingham.

The Smiths' daughter, Susan, and Judy Symon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Symon, returned

N F Hansen Claims Bride At Double-Ring Ceremonies

Jean Gunderson met Nikolas Forbes Hansen at the altar of St. Paul's Memorial Church, Detroit, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, July 9, to exchange double ring vows before the Rev. Canon James C. Wildfield.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Gunderson of Detroit, wore a gown of Chantilly lace styled along Elizabethan lines with a fitted bodice, fingered sleeves and a slight train.

Her matching Tudor cap was edged in tiny pearls and held a fingertip veil. The bride carried a crescent-style bouquet of phlox, anemone orchids and ivy centered with a white orchid.

MAID OF HONOR Nancy Murray and bridesmaids Nancy Havenrath and Barbara Bigelow were dressed alike in nylon tulle saraband gatin and wore matching Juliet caps. They carried varied-colored garden flowers.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robert Hansen of Strathmoor road, Bloomfield Hills, asked David Somers to be his best man, Lynn Howell and Robert Meyer acted as guests.

FOR THE nuptials and the garden reception which followed at Botsford Inn Mrs. Gunderson wore a dress of slate blue tulle accented with crystal beading and deep garden flowers.

Have You Met . . . Farmers residents of Tucson, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Fitzgerald? With their two children, Jeffrey, 4, and Kathy, 17 months-old, they moved into their new home at 1700 Torrey road in April. Fitzgerald is with the Precision Thread Grinding Company of Oak Park. He attended Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, and is fond of photography and sports. Mrs. Fitzgerald is a graduate of Antioch College and a member of the American Association of University Women.

Household Goods of every description are offered for sale in the Classified Columns of The Birmingham Eccentric.

Woodland site will begin July 28 and August 6. There are still openings for girls at both sessions, and more counselors are needed.

blue accessories. Her flower was a natural orchid on her wrist.

Mrs. Hansen chose a gown of soft, sea-foam green silk to wear with bronze accessories and a corsage of brown orchids.

Out-of-town guests included the groom's uncle, Lester Knox Little who came from Hong Kong, and Mr. and Mrs. George Murray Dambor of Waterloo, Ont.

WHEN THE newlyweds left on an Eastern motor trip, the new Mrs. Hansen was wearing a raw silk suit dress in wedgewood blue, with white and navy accessories.

The couple will make their home at the end of July in Pleasantville, N. J., while the groom is stationed at the Atlantic City naval base.

Have You Met . . . The John A. Logan family? Mr. and Mrs. Logan and their two daughters, Joan, 16, and Mary Virginia, 7, moved from Royal Oak to 3015 Guilford drive in April. Logan is a procurement officer for the Tank division of Army Ordnance. His hobby is fishing. Mrs. Logan is a member of the Women's City Club of Detroit, American Red Cross, the Royal Oak PTA Council, and the Detroit Historical Museum.
