Wisconsin Wedding Service Attracts Franklin Families

Janesville, Wis., was the destination of a number of local residents last weekend. They gathered at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, June 27, in the First Congregational Church of Janesville to hear Joyce Ann Klontz and Ross Stevenson Campbell, Jr., exchange double-ring vows by candlelight.

The Rev. Herbert C. Kimmel officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Earl Klontz of Janesville. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Stevenson Campbell of Franklin road, Franklin, are the parents of the groom.

THE BRIDE spoke her vows in a ballerina gown of white embroidered organdy. The neckline and shoulders were outlined in pleated organdy which also fell in tiers the length of her skirt. Graduated panels extended from her basque waist.

Her close fitted organdy cap was outlined in embroidered flowers and held an elbow length illusion veil. The bride carried white rhurum lilacs.

Maid of honor Joan Cook of Marinette, Wis., wore a bouffant frock of pastel blue organdy. She carried a nosegay bouquet and wore a miniature floral bandana in her hair.

In similar costumes distinguished with shawl collars were bridesmaids Margaret Wiseman, Phyllis School, Judy Schaller and Sue Gross, all of Janesville, and Ilana Looock of Wisconsin Rapids, and Mary Harris of Seaside, N. Y.

DAVID A. CAMPBELL was his brother's best man. Other ushers coming from the Birmingham area were William Sydney Gilbreath III, and Alfred J. Rosborough, Jr. Former Franklin resident Brewster J. Smith of East Lansing, Gordon Banks of H. Wayne, Ind., John F. Hobart of Whitefish Bay, Wis., and William L. Pryor of Evanston, Ill., completed the list of groomsmen.

Mrs. Klontz heard her daughter say her vows in a waist-length gown of beige shantung with a lace bodice. She completed her costume with a cocoa hat and accessories and a brooch cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Campbell's waist-length grey shantung dress was distinguished with chalk white and crystal beading. She wore accessories to match and pinned a white orchid to her bag.

OTHERS WHO attended the service and reception which followed at the Janesville Women's Club were the groom's grandmother, Mrs. William N. Albee of Franklin Village, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Albee, Jr., also of Franklin.

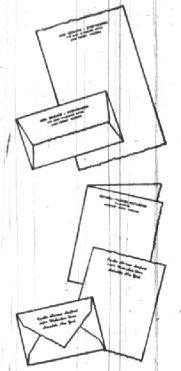

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Clark came from Detroit, Dr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Rubright from Alton, Ill., the bride's aunt Vera Klontz from Miskoggon, and Mrs. Brewster Smith from East Lansing.

THE NEW Mrs. Campbell changed to a costume suit of azure blue linen with navy accessories on her wedding trip departure. The couple are motoring through New England and will return July 13 to take up residence on Greenfield road for the remainder of the summer. They will move to Evanston in the fall where the groom will complete his studies at Northwestern University.

MRS. ROSS STEVENSON CAMPBELL, JR.

James F. Simpson who moved from Cleveland, O., to 737 North Eton road in May? Simpson is a business consultant and attorney with the Detroit Trust Company. MRS. JOHN E. JACOBS

Sisters Stand at Altar For Jacobs-Abbott Vows

Three sisters of the bride and two sisters of the groom stood at the altar of Christ Church Cranbrook at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 27.

Exchanging their vows before the Rev. Harold E. Towne were Carolyn Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fraser Abbott of Lakeview drive, and John E. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs of Lake Orion.

For her nuptials the bride selected a gown with a Chantilly lace bodice and nylon tulle skirt with a lace panel. She wore a fitted jacket of matching lace, and finger-tip veil fell from a crown of pearls and satin.

The bridal bouquet was formed of swainsonia and amazon lilies in a cascade arrangement.

MAID OF HONOR Sherrill A. Williams was in a ballerina dress of yellow nylon tulle with matching shoes and a matching headband. She carried a cascade of glowing amber carnations and ivy. Bridesmaids were the twin sister's of the bride, Shirley and Phyllis Abbott, another sister, Barbara Abbott, and two sisters of the groom Jean and Jane Jacobs.

Their ballerina gowns were of aqua nylon tulle, and they carried yellow carnations and ivy.

PERFORMING the duties of best man for his brother was James F. Jacobs. Ushers included Harold P. Dodge, Richard Y. Ellis, Erich Steinmueller, Fred Schaeffer and Richard M. Campau.

Mrs. Abbott chose a floor length gown of aqua chiffon, a pink hat and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Jacobs was in a coral net gown with a matching hat and a corsage of white carnations.

The newlyweds greeted guests in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony. Among those present were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Abbott of Asheville, N. C., her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Tucker and their children, Bob and Jean, another aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Philip N. Gold, and daughter, Nancy, of Highland Park, Ill., Carl Deuble of Elyria, O., and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wing of Highland Park, Ill.

MR. AND MRS. Jacobs are honeymooning at Clark Lake, Mich., for a few days, and will take an extended trip to Wisconsin in August. They will reside in Detroit.
