

Altrusa Club Welcomes Newly Named Members

At the June 22 dinner meeting of the Altrusa Club at the Cambridge Club, six women were admitted to membership. Welcomed into the club were Ellen Muir of Pontiac, Lenore Quinn, Naomi Usher, Elizabeth Cooleen, Hope

Lewis and Eugenie Pankotat, all of Birmingham. Guests included Dr. Thelma James and Marguerite Hicks, both of the English department of Wayne University, and two nursing instructors from Thailand who have been engaged in nursing studies in the United States under the auspices of the United States Public Health Service.

Silver Tapers Cast Glow Over Friday Evening Vows

Tall white tapers in silver candleabra cast a glow over the altar of Christ Church Cranbrook, banked in white gladioli, delphinium and madonna lilies for the June 26 marriage of Dolly Jane Milbrand and William Mulcahy. The Rev. Robert DeWitt read the six o'clock Friday evening service. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Milbrand of West Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Michael Mulcahy of North Adams, Mass., are the parents of the bridegroom.

THE BRIDE wore white, pure silk tulle cut along princess lines with a yoke of Alencon lace in rounded neckline. Matching lace formed insets at the wrists and she wore short gloves of white silk nylon. The bridal gown's full, paneled skirt fell to a train. Her long veil was caught by a crown of French net beaded in pearls. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white stephanotis and ivy, centered with a white orchid.

ALL SEVEN of the bridal attendants wore white mousseline over ice blue tulle. Handmade white nylon daisies with rhinestone centers were applied on the bodices, three-quarter sleeves and tops of their full skirts. Their accessories consisted of blue satin belts and shoes, and big picture hats of ice blue birdhair hat with accented with a tiny bouquet of blue and white forget-me-nots. They carried bouquets of light blue delphinium and white daisies set in ivy.

Completing the wedding party were flower girl Patsy Fern of Westwood, N. J., three-year-old niece of the groom, who wore a souffant frock of pink nylon tulle and carried sweetheart roses; and ring bearer Hobby Speckels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Streckel of Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Milbrand attended her daughter's nuptials in a full-skirted gown of beige paper tulle with a matching jacket. She wore a hat of pink tulle and sequins, gold slippers and a corsage of golden brown orchids. Mrs. Mulcahy was in a gown of rose lace, a small hat and matching accessories. Green orchids formed her corsage.

FOLLOWING THE ceremony guests retired to the Detroit Yacht Club which was banked in white flowers for a brief reception, followed by a musical dance. The newlyweds are presently honeymooning in Bermuda. They will return in a month to make their home on Whitmore road, Detroit. For traveling the new Mrs. Milbrand wears a navy suit with blue and white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

MRS. WILLIAM MULCAHY

WILLIAM MULCZANGA of North Adams, Mass., was the best man. Guests were seated by Don Perin of Westwood, N. J., James Norton of North Adams, Mass., the bride's brother; David Milbrand, John Ginn, Milton Manley, Jr., and William Chesbrough.

A long-planned and once-postponed trip to Greenfield Village was taken by Girl Scout Troop 360 on June 21, with the weatherman cooperating with clear skies after an early rain. Scouts making the trip were Mary Ellen Davis, Sharon Gibson, Jay Graber, Karen Maddox, Virginia Brown, Iostland Latham, Jewel Orstein, Joah Smith, Sharon Patecki, Margaret Roberts and Nan and Barton Jones, Virginia, who attended school in the Village before forming to acquaintanceship with several of her former teachers. Accompanying the girls were Mrs. John Gibson, Mrs. Harold Jones and Mrs. James B. Roberts, Sharon Gibson made arrangements for the trip.

Guests last week at the James Roberts home were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Roberts, Sr., of Youngstown, Ohio, returning with them to Youngstown for a short visit were their granddaughters, Mary and Margaret Roberts. Mr. and Mrs. John Phelps presented their music pupils in a recital June 22. Pianists were Bobby Sinitz, Wendy Nantabedian, Christine Layman, Joanne Semper, Martha Knicker, Peter and Edward Whinn, Ruth Alice and Edward Nickel. Others on the program were Dorene Karmis, acrobatic; Judith Karnes, clarinetist and Bill Nochi, trumpeter. Pringle Roberts represented the Detroit Schoolmen's chorus at a meeting of the Michigan Male Chorus Association at Sauc Lake. On Monday the family left for Florida for a month's vacation. Their home will be occupied by the Burleigh family from Detroit.
