Honeymooning in Laurentians

The Chantreux Inn at St. Adèle, deep in the Laurentian mountains, was the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Norville Hubbard when they left the Country Club of Detroit after their wedding reception there Saturday, July 23.

The pair were married late Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Canon Harper in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe. The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the former Susan Louise Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gordon Johnstone of Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Norville Hubbard of Dorchester Road.

Mrs. Johnstone's costume was a silk print in white and cornflower blue with a hat of matching straw, and a corsage of cornflowers. Mrs. Hubbard chose ice blue silk tulle with a matching velvet hat. Her flowers were white camellias.

FOR TRAVELING, the bride changed to a blue and white cotton suit and white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard will make their home at the Grosse Pointe Garden Apartments after August 2.

TO REPEAT her vows the bride chose a white mousseline de soie over white tulle with an off-shoulder neckline applied in heirloom rosepointe lace, and a full skirt falling into a traditional train. She carried a staphisyllis centered with a white orchid.

The bride's full length veil and cap of rosepointe lace over silk tulle was originally worn by her mother at her marriage in St. Margaret's chapel of Westminster Abbey, London.

In waitz length gloves of white organza dotted with blue cornflowers, cut with short sleeves and round necklines, were the bride's attendants. Their crownless hats of rough straw were tied in matching cornflower blue ribbon, and they carried bouquets of varying shades of delphinium.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS

A rambling cottage in a three-acre, secluded setting, in the shadow of the Tower of Christ Church Cranbrook; a perfect home for the larger family, wanting country living in beautiful and highly restricted surroundings.

For that particular person who enjoys remodeling, this house offers unlimited possibilities. The original part of the house was built in 1900, and an addition, containing a 19x37.7 living room, was made in 1938.

It is impossible to present a picture of the house, as the landscaping screens it from Cranbrook Road. We believe this unusual home must be seen to be appreciated.
