

Suburban Seen

By KAY REED

When I pray I must not say: now God, hearing me will bestow upon me what I am asking for. Indeed, my prayer should impress me with the need for myself applying in everyday life the best qualities I can express. God demands my own co-operation.

STREET SCENE: While gazing out the window the other afternoon contemplating having oneself frozen in a block of ice for the duration, we witnessed one of those 'nobleless obliging acts that made us straighten up and return to battle the boat.

Young gentleman is sitting in his vehicle busily engaged in SEEKING, apparently by means of one of those gadgets that plug into the car's lighter. Not bothered he by the snickers that emitted from the window of the car parked alongside of the amused glances of passers-by. When the final trace of noon shadow had been done away with, he rolled up the window, carefully put on his coat and straw hat, locked the doors, picked up his briefcase and walked away. Birth of a salesmen.

SPEAKING OF STREETS (we were, see beginning of first paragraph) does one line IN or ON? Disagreeing with the metropolitan scribes, we refuse to indicate that Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed will reside IN Woodward avenue (or by street you wish). We wonder what they would do with Central Park West.

NEW ARRIVALS at the Old Trail Inn, Harbor Springs, include Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leinich of Coloniet Court, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Banker and son Herbert of Walnut Lake. Mr. B. being a fishing enthusiast has been angling daily at Maple River for bass and brook trout. Vacationing with the Bankers are Dr. and Mrs. Guy H. Smith.

Others who recently headed up to the Harbor Springs area are Mr. and Mrs. Steele L. Sellers of Aspen road and the George A. Matkels of Washington boulevard, guests of the John D. Burkes at their Shore drive home. Highlight of their stay was the Sellers' fourth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morley of North Woodward avenue were recent guests at the Harbor Pointe Club, while Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lewis left their Hawthorne road home for several days at their summer home at the Lake Michigan shore. Their houseguests were the John D. Burkes of Henrietta avenue who marked their thirtieth anniversary while in the North.

VISITING Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McEvoy and their son Scott at their new home on Goodhue road are grandchildren Brian and Gred Anderson of Milwaukee.

JULY 25 will mark the beginning of the camping season for those girls who have chosen the third period at the YWCA camp on the shores of Lake Huron, Camp Cavell. Local girls who will arrive at Cavell Saturday will be Carol and Mary Ann Drinkard of Birwood avenue, Sally and Julie Woodruff of West Ten Mile road, Helen Dudini of Lahser road, Betty Dallas of Pembroke avenue, Janet Edwards of Ruffin street, and Carol Van Bossum of Eton road.

On hand to greet the newcomers will be those staying over for another period, Judy Evans of Golfview drive, Carolyn Chappell of Larchlea drive, Janet Brown of Ridgely avenue, Judith Julian of Pembroke avenue, and Susan Usher of Puppleton avenue.

HERE for an indefinite visit at the Oakland avenue home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bert Peabody, is Mrs. Norman Schlaack of Middletown, N.J.

DEEP IN PLANS for their August 15 wedding are Frederick Vici and Lee R. Jones. The pair will exchange vows in an auspicious ceremony at the First Methodist Church, with a reception following in the church parlors. The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Janus Vici of Pierce street, has a trio of Alpha Delta Pi sorority sisters from Ohio Wesleyan and Michigan State College to be her attendants. Maid of honor will be Mary Lou Harvie of Saginaw, while the bridesmaids will be Elizabeth Harris of Detroit, and Linda Cleary of Midland, will be the flower girl.

Her fiance, whose home is in Midland, will have Charles A. Bryant of Detroit as his best man. Ushers will include Gerry Peterson of Midland, Lewis A. Crawford of Kalamazoo, and the bride-elect's brother, Frederick Vici.

Among those who have already feted the prospective bride is Mrs. Muri Webster who gave a July 6 shower in her Pleasant street home. Mr. and Mrs. Vici will host a buffet dinner following the rehearsal on August 14.

TRAVELING FOR SCOTLAND from Montreal on July 17 was Mrs. A. L. Lamond of Purdy street. Mrs. Lamond will spend three and a half months visiting relatives, and begin the voyage home on October 21.

Choosing Girlstown Site First Step Toward Reality

GAYLORD—"Where is Girlstown to be located?" That was the top question facing the Girlstown Board of Directors meeting on July 15 at Hidden Valley, Gaylord.

Oakland Hills Attracts Throng to Summer Party

'Mad Hatters' Show Creations At Bridge Fete

The term 'mad hatter' originally denoted an occupational disease suffered by eighteenth century hat makers who contracted the brain malady by pricking themselves with their felt-permeated needles. A temporary outbreak occurred last week when the ladies of Oakland Hills Country Club staged a "Mad Hatters" party in conjunction with their July bridge luncheon.

CALCULATED to brighten the midsummer social doldrums, the party was a smashing success, with the zany creations being sported the length and breadth of the circular drive, the cool clubhouse and sunny terrace.

'Originals' included a flag-pole sitter, a cocktail tray, a picnic, a ski-jump, a carousel, a garden, a mouse-trap, a tree, a golfer complete with rough, a moog, and monkeys who wagged their tails and
