Adapt Fairy Tale For Children's Theater Program

An original play, "The Princess Who was Forgotten" written especially for the Children's Theatre branch of the Cranbrook Summer Theatre by Carl G. Womberger will be given July 29 and 30 in the Greek Theatre at Cranbrook.

Womberger adapted the play from a story he discovered in the archives of English fairy tales in the Cranbrook House library of the late George G. Booth.

The plot deals with a king's third daughter who was disclaimed by her father because she would not protest her love for him loudly enough. Expelled from her homeland, she is aided in her wanderings by a band of elves who eventually bring her happiness and a handsome prince.

ACTED BY a cast of 49 from Detroit and various communities in Oakland County, the play is under the general supervision of Alice Shaw who has been a summer theatre student for eleven years and is head director this season. She will be assisted by Marilyn Egan, formerly of Michigan State College, and by Barbara Reynolds, Nancy Alice Womberger, Capille Sink and Barbara Aikens.

Cast members from Birmingham include: Julie Guest, Virginia Hunt, Sally Annas, Jane Griffith, Nancyraye Smith, Sally Satterthwaite, Joyce Harlan, Phil Satterthwaite, Marilyn McIntock, Mary Hawley, Carol Weston, Diane Dawson, Frances Quillian, Linne Underdown, Michael Lee Greer, Priscilla Holmes, Wendy Paddison, Anne Monaghan, Amy Falvey, Carol Bain, Judy Austin, Ann Alexander, Frank Green, Mary Stephenson, Carolyn Vogt, Mary Falvey, Lisa

Rodor and Karen Dawson. THOSE FROM Bloomfield Hills are Buntz Bunt, Carol Warrick and Janet Saylor. Marion Nevill Kirk, director of dancing at the Summer Theatre and at Purdue University, will do the choreography; Robert Sprague, Pat Hogan, Richard Booth and James August head the stage crew.
