A turnout of more than 400 boys for practice with the Little League's farm teams forced quick organization of those circuits last week.
 The Bulldogs and Wildcats added to the American farm league while the Rockets and Panthers joined the National, making this year's farm picture double the 1952 size.
 The number of boys on each team had run from 28 to 38, was cut to 24 so that each youngster might have more opportunity to play.
 The schedules were revised hastily. The results of the first week's games were:
 American League
 Eagles 10 Fortyniners 8
 Lions 3 Rams 2
 Stokers 7 Ruffs 6
 National League
 Cardinals 4 Bears 2
 Bisons 8 Colts 2
 Redskins 10 Texans 8
 Bears 4 Redskins 1
 The new teams will open their season against each other Saturday morning.
 The Little League officials had added four new teams at the start of the season, expecting an increase in the turnout, but were not prepared for the overwhelming response. The "play ball" call got from the 8 to 12 year olds.

National Foundation Plans Training Class For PEV Preparation

Plans for the third annual training course for polo emergency volunteers gets underway this week, according to Ruth W. Parshall, executive secretary, Oakland county chapter National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Mrs. James Little of Farmington, PEV chairman, said the group would train as assistants to professional workers, ready to do their part should polo affairs emergency proportions again this year. Members will have a short but intensive training period at St. Joseph Mercy hospital beginning June 22. Mrs. Lillie and Mrs. Parshall said. Medical staff members will instruct the volunteers in many non-technical tasks of bedside nursing and polo care. American Red Cross units are cooperating with the Foundation on this program. Mrs. Edward Rothman, chairman of polo aides, of Birmingham, is assisting with the recruitment plans.
