Home Nuptials Held In Hills

Married at a small family ceremony at noon Saturday, June 13, were Julie Ann Ford and Richard Whitman. The couple repeated their vows before the Rev. Evell Maynard of Christ Church, Grace Pointe, in the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Peter Ford of Franklin road.

The couple's only attendants were Martha Marshall of Langley and Ralph Bacon of Bedford. A luncheon followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitman, honeymooning in Northern Michigan, will reside in Alma.

WEDDINGS

Mrs. Doyle wore a street-length nylon sheer in a pastel like shade with a white braided lace hat and a corsage of roses. Mrs. Torow chose a mauve shaded lace chiffon street-length dress, a navy velvet hat and navy accessories. Roses also formed her corsage.

A BREAKFAST for members of the immediate families and the wedding parties followed at Rotman Inn.

A reception was held later in the afternoon at the Ford Alumni club house.

When the newlyweds left on a two week motor trip to New Orleans the new Mrs. Torow had donned a blue tulle suit trimmed with a blue tulle hat, white accessories and a white orchid corsage. A home in Detroit awaits their return.

Bonino-Collier

Kansas City, Mo., is the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry Bonino whose nuptials were an event of one o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 13. The bride, the former Curmie Ruth Collier, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Don Collier of Ramsage road, Lathrup Village.

She and the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bonino of Dearborn, exchanged double ring vows before the Rev. Neal Don Kelley at the Westlawn Methodist Church of Detroit.

THE BRIDAL gown followed a colonial motif in white Chantilly lace. The slim bodice was designed with a portrait neckline outlined in pearls which carried into long, tapered sleeves. The waistline was emphasized by lace gathered to panier fullness at either side and falling scallops, revealing a double ruffled flounce of nylon tulle.

The bride's matching lace princess cap was studded with pearls, and caught a veil of illusion. She carried a white orchid and lilies of the valley on her prayer book.

HONOR ATTENDANT Nancy Passow was in a waltz length gown and bolero of yellow lace over blue tulle with a white hat. In an identical gown with inverted colors was bridesmaid Nancy Knuth of Bloomington, Ill.

Gene Bonino was his brother's best man. Ushering were Roy H. Hammond of Albion and Thomas H. Nulf of Dearborn.

Mrs. Collier selected a street length dress of coral silk chiffon for her daughter's wedding. She wore a champagne colored net hat and accessories, and pinned an orchid corsage to her bag.

Mrs. Bonino was in a street length gown of rose beige silk organza with beige accessories, and also pinned orchids to her purse.

FOLLOWING the ceremony a reception was held at Dearborn Inn. When the couple left for Kansas City the bride had changed to a sheer ribbed wool suit with beige and brown accessories.

The groom will attend the Kansas City School of Osteopathy and Surgery, and the bride will study at the University of Kansas.

Szor-McLean

The First Presbyterian Church of Ann Arbor was illuminated with candles at eight o'clock Saturday evening for the double ring vows of Marjorie Ann McLean and Samuel Paul Szor.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Nichol McLean of Parkway drive, Beverly Hills, and the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Szor of Toledo, O., were married by the Rev. Henry Kuizenga.

The bridal party included maid of honor Janice McLean, sister of the bride, bridesmaid Elizabeth Szor, and junior bridesmaid Joyce and Joann Szor, all sisters of the groom.

THE BRIDAL GOWN was fashion-ioned with a Chantilly-lace bodice and long sleeves, a stand-up collar, tulle skirt and lace train. Her dress fitting lace cap was trimmed in satin and she wore a nylon marquisette veil. The bride carried a cascade of white roses, carnations and larkspur.

The bride attendants' ballgown gowns were in a lavender lace, and worn with matching shoes and clove-tipped caps. Miss McLean carried ivory larkspur, and the Misses Szor's bouquets were fashioned with pink carnations and larkspur.

THE GROOM's cousin, John Kaduk of Toledo, was his best man. The bride's brother, Thomas McLean of Detroit, Anton Kieckhafer of Toledo, ushered.

Mrs. McLean was in a gown of periwinkle blue lace with a mandarin neckline and linen yoke. She wore white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

After a reception in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs. Szor left for a week's trip to Lake George and the Adirondacks. On her departure the bride was wearing a three piece white linen suit trimmed in black, and black and white accessories.

The couple will reside in Ann Arbor this summer while the groom completes his graduate school studies. They will make their home in Toledo in September.

Nielander-Hayden

Of interest to Birmingham were the June 13 nuptials in the Church of the Epiphany, South Miami, Fla., of Hope Ann Hayden and James Nielander.

The bride is the daughter of former Birmingham residents Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Hayden. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Nielander of Cincinnati, O., and South Miami.

A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The bride and groom will return to South Miami to make their home.

EN ROUTE west they will stop at Cincinnati for a June 20 reception at the Maketevah Country Club.

Bridal attendants included the bride's sister, Mary Lu Hayden, maid of honor, and bridesmaid, Mary Ramsdell of South Miami. Dr. Nielander was his son's best man, while J. E. Nielander and H. Theodore Nielander, brothers of the groom, ushered.

Ushering the groom-to-be were Jim Temple, Bill Rigley, Art DeRosier, John Madonna and Jack Whelan.

On Saturday, June 13, there was a winter-roast and final outing for the whole Baldwin B-3 Cub Scout pack at the J. W. Dahn residence on Labar road. Participating were the three local West Beverly Hills dens headed by fathers Den 10, Mrs. E. J. LaRose and her assistant, Mrs. Thomas E. Husted, both of Buckingham road; Den 11, Mrs. C. J. Schroeder of Devonshire road; Den 13, Mrs. Herbert Ashcraft and Mrs. Herbert Green both of Devonshire road. Fathers were also invited and a baseball game highlighted the festivities.
