Third Dance Drama Premier Set for August Performance

The premier performance of a new dance-drama, written by Austin Jones, choreographed by Marion Kirk Jones, with score by Barnhard Heiden, has been scheduled for August 20, 21, 22, 27, 28, 29 at the Greek Theater, Cranbrook.

The new dance-drama, whose title is yet to be released, will be the third to be produced by Mr. and Mrs. Jones (the former Marion Nevill Kirk) whose summer address is on Southfield road.

The first, "Millennium Sunday," was performed in August of 1950, with the second, "Trinity in Tears," staged in August of the following year.

THE CURRENT offering has been in preparation since last September, with both script and choreography entirely new. The music has been composed especially for the occasion by Bernhard Heiden, composer and professor at Indiana University.

Jones, a graduate student at Purdue University, received his bachelor of arts degree in English composition from the University of Illinois. Marion Kirk Jones, dance director of the Cranbrook Summer Theater, will head the dance department at Purdue University in the fall.

ACCORDING TO producer Jones, dance-dramas are rarely staged because of their complex structure and pattern which is a constantly shifting blend of dancing and partying, both with or without musical accompaniment.

The new dance drama will be cast from amateur actors and dancers from the metropolitan area and neighboring cities. All major parts will be filled by those who have done professional work or who are embarking on professional careers.

Final auditions for the thirty-member cast will be held next week. Those interested in auditioning or in joining the production staff may contact Jones at 803 Southfield road.
