

In a system of self-government, on democracy, the men of wisdom who operate the State are (to be realistic about it) potential tyrants. They may not resort to bloodshed to "take over"; they do it through legislation. Forever they must be controlled!

Suburban Seen

By KAY REED

SUBURBAN SEEN had its own "eye" one afternoon last week. We did our own photography, and felt a little like Arthur Godfrey must have in taking off in a jet plane. We have tons of experience in the brownie you-can't-miss field, but the press camera, in addition to outweighing us, has more instruments than any old rocket ship. Nonetheless, wired with flashbulbs and clothed with film, we set out for the country like St. George in pursuit of the dragon.

To distort the simile even further, we felt like we were riding the dragon, since someone had tampered with the press car muffler and it rumbled and roared over hill and dale like the very best hot-rodder.

Even more disturbing was the radio announcement heralding the approach of a possible tornado. We had been told to bring both car and camera back without the slightest scratch—it was who was expendable.

Our first fling with the shutter was slightly spectacular. The only place that appealed to our practical eye was by the door, and we thereby bottled up the entrance and exit of a very busy art show for a half hour. Frustrated art show visitors and slightly warm spectators who wished to make their escape slid through our legs and our final picture looked like the latest in impressionism. When we finally pulled the trigger the bulb flashed dutifully, but the shutter remained firm. Our subjects were so glad to be rid of our tintype methods that we didn't have the heart to tell them all was for naught and wrote their names down as though they were graven images, then slunk around outside to snare more unsuspecting souls.

We departed feeling a bit like Margaret Bourke, since we did have several exposed negatives, but have now enrolled in art school so that next time we shall fortify it will be with sketch pad and pencil. Much quicker.

HOUSEGUESTS in the area include Mrs. Jack Oberlin of Itasca, Ill., who is spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carr of Windemere road. Mrs. Carr feted her guest at a June 17 luncheon at which Mrs. Samuel Deane showed films taken last summer on her Scandinavian trip with Dr. Alice Crathern. Showing it's a small world all right, several of the shots were of Mrs. Charles Stein who also was abroad. Mrs. Oberlin will fly back to Chicago in the Jack Haley's private plane.

MARY DORIS MOORE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Moore of Royal Oak, has set August 29 as the date for her marriage to Walker Ronald Denison, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Denison of Goodhue road, Bloomfield Hills. The wedding will take place in the First Methodist Church of Royal Oak.

Mary has chosen as her honor attendant, Robin Squier of Park Ridge, Ill., a former Kingswood classmate. Other attendants will be Janice Wessinger, another Kingswood classmate; Joan Catherine Smith, a Kappa Alpha sorority sister; Lois Balenburgh of Saginaw; a former college roommate; and Betty Wenzly, a cousin of the groom.

Mary's aunt, Miss Eva Moore, entertained forty guests at a tea in her honor at her summer home, "Half-Step" on Deer Lake. Co-hostesses were Miss Ruth Cowen and Miss Emma Doerr. Mrs. Denison will fetter her future daughter-in-law at a June 25 party.

ELEVEN GIRLS who started their education at Adams school together marked a milestone at a June 19 party at Kathleen Berry's cottage on Watkins Lake. All June grads of Birmingham high school, they typed old pictures and scrapbooks that showed them "when". The group included Carol Back who, with the hostess, will enter the University of Wisconsin in the fall; Ann Boschert, bound for the University of Michigan; Elizabeth Cobb, Washington University in St. Louis; Sylvia Chalk, who has chosen a nursing course at Skidmore College; Linda Loomis, Ohio Wesleyan; Peggy de Beautien, the University of New Hampshire; Jane Gruber, Michigan State College; Sharon Cummings, Penn Hall Junior College; and Ellen Lewis bound for Miami University, Oxford, O.

PRENUPTIAL PARTIES began last week for Dolly Jane Milbrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Milbrand of West Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills, whose marriage to William Mulcahy of North Adams, Mass., will take place June 26 at Christ Church Cranbrook. The Rev. Robert DeWitt will conduct the service.

First hostess to fete the bride-elect was Mrs. Vernon Genn whose kitchen shower and luncheon took place June 11 at her hills home. The Detroit Golf Club was the scene of a June 16 luncheon and shower given by Mrs. Erwin W. Berger, and the next day Mrs. Robert entertained at brunch at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club, with the twenty guests going later to Mrs. Skillman's home, Fairfield Farms, for the unwrapping of shower gifts. Sue Moloney chose June 19 for a garden luncheon and shower at her Arlington drive home. In the prospective groom's honor was a stag party given by Milton Manley, Jr.

June 24 was reserved for the spinstler dinner which was given by Mrs. James Q. Goudie, Mrs. Harwood Bacon and Mrs. Walter Williams at the Goudie home on North Woodward avenue. The rehearsal dinner is scheduled for this evening at the Detroit Golf Club, with the groom's parents the hosts. The wedding ceremony will be followed by a reception and dinner at the Detroit Yacht Club.

IN TOWN for the June 1 golden wedding anniversary of Mr. G.'s parents were Mr. and Mrs. Gerry F. Gillard, and their young sons, Perry and Michael. They have been the guests of Mr. Gillard's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard T. Lourin of Lakeview drive. They were feted at June 14 family picnic in the Lourin garden before returning to their Studio City, Calif., home.

RECENT VISITORS to Remfro Valley, Ky., were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Armstrong of West Twelve Mile road, Mrs. Hope E. Scott and her granddaughter April.

Tea Time in Bloomfield Finds Benefit Group at Longmeadow

Hills Turn Out in Response To Telephoned Invitations

Not even the heat can dampen the ardor of local women when it comes to the Bird Nest Cottage. Localities turned out in droves Tuesday afternoon, June 16, to raise funds for recreational equipment at a tea hosted by Mrs. Edward E. Wilson and Mrs. Kenneth D. McGregor.

The Bird's Nest Cottage, to the uninitiated, is a cottage for girls from six to twenty years old at the Girls' Friendly Society's vacation camp at Pine Lake.

The tea took place at Longmeadow, the West Long Lake road home of Defense Secretary and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, handed to their daughter-in-law and Mrs. McGregor for the occasion.

Arriving guests took refuge from the warm day in the cool, French Provincial rooms, long terraces and informal gardens.

MRS. BRUCE ANNETT

MRS. EDWARD WILSON
Hostess chats with guests.

House, slated for September. The setting was informal, with Mrs. Edward Wilson greeting guests in a cool silk print. Hats, if worn, were mostly large summer straw.

COMING OVER from Cranbrook were Mrs. Robert L. DeWitt, Mrs. Perry Williams and Mrs. William Norvall. Among those who poured was Mrs. William E. Rice, chairman of the board.

A number filled out a busy calendar by coming in from the Women's City Club annual outing, held this year at Mrs. Alfred C. Wilson's Rehoboth home. Among those dining their afternoon was Mrs. W. B. Hoge.

Others on hand were Mrs. Sheldon R. Noble, Mrs. John W. Gillette, Mrs. William G. Serchen, Jr., Mrs. James Saxe, Mrs. William Green and Mrs. Frank Chapman.

MORE TEA GOERS were Mrs.

Ernest R. Breech, Mrs. William T. Gossett, Mrs. Bruce Annett, Mrs. William B. Hargreaves, Mrs. David Lee, Mrs. Parbury Schmidt, Mrs. Edward A. Proctor, Mrs. James Sidway, Mrs. William W. Williams, Mrs. Winthrop Conrad, Mrs. Maxwell D. Millard, Mrs. Rogers I. Marquis, Mrs. John S. Judd, Mrs. James Wright, Mrs. Richard Garlick, Mrs. Alfred LaBelle, Mrs. Paul Wilson, Mrs. Ari M. BeGole, Mrs. Ogden Vogt and Mrs. John Poole.

Other guests were Mrs. C. L. Austin, Mrs. Alfred McKeown, Mrs. Howard Liverance, Mrs. William Beyer, Mrs. W. B. Hoge, Mrs. Robert Knight, Mrs. Donald Stearn, Mrs. Edmund Rogers, and Mrs. Richard English.

MRS. ALFRED LABELLE

MRS. A. R. PETER FORD

Visit in the library.

MRS. PARBURY SCHMIDT

MRS. ROBERT KNIGHT
Conversation over teacups.

MRS. RICHARD GARLICK

MRS. JOSEPH PAGE

MRS. RICHARD ENGLISH

MRS. ROGERS MARQUIS

Gather in entrance hall.

FRANKLIN NEWS

By ANGELA DADSON
Mayfair 6-2441

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Baugh celebrated their 19th wedding anniversary last week, spending the weekend in Chicago.

Kenneth Herman, Captain lane, executive vice president of Vickers, Inc., Detroit, and vice president of the Sperry Corp., New York, has been named secretary of the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Franklin is prominently represented in the management of the Detroit Horse Show this year. G. Fred Morris, Ramsey stud, has been made president for the fifth consecutive year. Mrs. Maxwell Millard, Irving road, is secretary and Wendell Smith, Coral road, is chairman of the stables. The show opens at the Bloomfield Open Hunt club today and runs through Sunday.

School is out, recitals are over, summer's heat is here and vacations have begun. The Otter Kids spent last week-end at their new summer cottage in the thumb area on Lake Huron. The John Faulkners are commencing to take from their summer home on Crystal Lake west of Traverse City. The George Gerlachs are commencing, too from their summer place near St. Joseph.

Class of '43 To Gather

The wonderful jazz of Tommy Dorsey, the late Glen Miller and the other dance of the mid-Forties will float nostalgically through Hansen's Park, located on Rochester road, at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 27.

On hand with memories of their high school years will be the Baldwin high school class of 1943, along with their wives, husbands and children. Special guests will be the teachers at Baldwin in 1943.

THE REUNION, originally scheduled for Springfield Park, was moved to the Big Beaver park when a large number of alumni responded. 103 graduates are living in the area, and all but 30 of the original class have been located.

The program will open with the reading of letters and cards from those unable to attend. Picnic lunches, provided by the individuals, will be eaten, after which the dancing will begin.

In case of rain the affair will be moved to the new Birmingham high school.

REMINISCENCES will include the war years, with commencement being followed by rapid induction, some going into the armed service.

July 11 Vows Set by Pair

Jessie Alice Rilet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rilet of Clair, Mich., and John Sigurd Rue of Villa road, will speak their marriage vows Saturday, July 11, in Clair.

The bride-elect is a June graduate of the University of Michigan school of nursing. Her fiancé also attends that of M. where he is a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

lyn was president of the Future Teachers of America in her undergraduate days. She was also a member of the League of Women Voters, the International Relations club, and the Phi Kappa Phi honor society.

Rolland S. McGinnis was awarded the degree of bachelor of sciences in speech at the University of Wisconsin's 100th annual commencement, Friday, June 19, in the Wisconsin Field House.

Priscilla Heiss Martz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Martz of Lakeview drive, received her diploma from the University of Michigan school of nursing. She has completed three years of study at the University Hospital.

With the COLLEGIANS

Clyde McDonald, 288 Oakland avenue, was among the 29 students in the mortuary science department at Wayne University who received three-year certificates during ceremonies held in the Detroit Institute of Arts lecture hall, June 11.

Charles David McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McIntyre of Riverside drive, was graduated from the junior college department of Principia College, Elmhurst, Ill., Thursday, June 11. A major in the field of government, he was a member of the college choir, debate team and fire crew. Active in sports, he was on last year's varsity basketball team.

Gordon E. Northrup, 1040 Gordon Court, received the degree of doctor of medicine at the June 12 commencement exercises at the University of Chicago.

Marilyn Ann Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of Webster avenue, received a bachelor of arts degree from Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., this month. An education major, Mari-