

Highways Posted To Warn Drivers Of Danger Spots

With the vacation season getting into full swing, Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, is urging drivers to help reduce traffic accidents by avoiding unlawful and dangerous driving habits.

Ziegler, chairman of the State Safety Commission, said the summer slogan adopted by the group is "Keep in the lane—don't be a road hog."

"I am amazed at those who pass on hills and curves," he said, "two of the most dangerous things a motorist can do."

NEARLY EVERY RESIDENT will have an opportunity to test his or her driving reactions within the next month when the Birmingham police department's new reaction machine, located on the property of the Actuarial Life Insurance company, will first be used in the high school prior to the Teenage Road-Rally. Lt. Henry Tamm of the Birmingham police department then hopes to have the machine in operation in local stores and later it will be available for service clubs and PTA organizations. The mechanical obstacle course accurately records the reaction time of the person being tested.

PETS FROM THE WILD
In late April, May and June life begins for many new residents everywhere in Michigan. Outdoors, Skunks, raccoons, foxes, opossums, squirrels, rabbits, deer, and others peddle their wares and rescue them to a host of natural enemies in a race which is on all the time between the sexes. In just 18 months, almost every animal is irresistibly "ripe." It is a natural temptation for man to hunt the wonderland of the wilderness and attempt to domesticate it. In many instances the net results may prove disastrous.

Raccoons—First Choice
Because of the appealing,implacable, and playful antics of a young coon and the common Michigan attitude of frequently appropriated from its natural habitat, the man is likely to neglect his interest in the animal's welfare. The seven members of the Michigan legislature are to be commended in their efforts to make laws to control the sale and interstate movement of the common raccoon.

However, if the consumer of wild animals wants his hand less often turned to the pocketbook, he can call us in for guidance in the art of partaking of the animal's diet. But, remember, the animal is not to be obtained at any cost. It is better off living there.

A former Birmingham resident, Mrs. Nellie "Michigan Outdoors" television show appears every Thursday at 7:30 p.m. over station WWJ-TV.
